

HITS POLICEMAN AND THEN RUNS

Omer Adams Takes Advantage of
Price While Latter Pushes
Bicycle And Carries Beer

HE AND COMPANION FLEE

Policeman Fires Shot And Catches
Adams—Ed Regan, Who Ran
Gives Himself Up

Trying to take two men to jail, push a bicycle and carry a basket of beer all at the same time proved too much of a task for Policeman Price Saturday night but he eventually succeeded even if the men did run and for a time threaten to make good their escape.

Policeman Price was attempting to take Omer Adams and Ed Regan to jail. He was pushing his own bicycle and carrying the basket of beer found in possession of the two. When near the corner of Third and Harrison street, Adams is said to have struck Price and then the two ran in opposite directions. Price fired one shot at the fleeing form of Adams and then proceeded to follow him and let Regan go.

Adams crawled under a rear porch at the home of O. C. Brann in North Harrison street and was pulled out by Price. The policeman took all the fight out of Adams by a blow over the head. The blow was well directed and flashed with great force because it resulted in the smashing of Price's mace and the raising of a large welt on Adams' head.

Regan gave himself up and was placed in jail with Adams. This morning in police court Regan pleaded guilty and was fined one dollar and costs. Adams appeared in court with an attorney and filed motions for a change of venue in both cases—assault and battery and intoxication.

Adams, remembering that this is his eighth appearance before Mayor Bebout in two years, decided that he could expect little mercy and asked for a change of judge. Adams' bond was placed at $150 and he went back to jail in default although he hoped to obtain a bondsman before night.

Adams and Regan were a part of a crowd that came in from Connersville Saturday night on the last car. Policeman Price followed Adams and Regan and ran on to them at Fourth and Sexton. They were talking loudly and arguing. It was then that Price started his march to jail.

SIDEBOARDS PUT ON ANANIAS CUSPIDOR

Joe Dickman, court house custodian, has erected sideboards on an ordinary cuspidor at the headquarters of the Ananias club, and hereafter the club members will have no difficulty in locating it from any angle of the room. The sideboard on the cuspidor is made out of galvanized iron and is about fifteen feet in circumference. Dickman states that the club members can now spit to their heart's content. He says there is only drawback to the enlarged cuspidor and that is every time a member hits the retaining wall it sounds like a thunder storm.

A SENSATIONAL CHARGE

Lewis Gowdy Names Correspondent
in Divorce Suit Filed Today

Lewis Gowdy has filed suit for divorce from Dora Gowdy, making sensational charges in the complaint. They reside near Arlington. Mr. Gowdy alleges that his wife was intimate with Samuel Hinton and secretly entertained him at her home. He says this continued for three months before he found it out and then the separation resulted. He alleges cruel and inhuman treatment, stating that she was high tempered and frequently used profane language. According to the complaint, they were married in Decatur county on October 24, 1914 and separated March 15, 1916. C. M. Duncan represents Mr. Gowdy.

MARSHAL SUBVOES VIOLATOR OF BOND

Glenwood Officer Induces Raymond
Nesbit to go Into Court After
Exciting Time

WAS PUT UNDER PEACE BOND

Glenwood was the scene of another exciting time Saturday afternoon late, when Marshal Brooks attempted to arrest Raymond Nesbit on charges of provoke and profanity. Details of the affair are meagre and the citizens of the town were not very anxious to discuss the trouble today.

As near as can be determined Nesbit had been placed under a peace bond in Connersville Saturday morning and on his return to Glenwood the officers attempted to serve the warrants on him. He is said to have resisted arrest and made threats against the town marshal. He was finally induced to go before Squire Thompson and was released on bond. The trial of these two cases is set for Thursday morning at ten o'clock. Nesbit was taken to Connersville this morning to answer to a charge of violating his peace bond.

Miss Eulalia Frans of Texas Says
Derby Kiser is Detained For Some Unknown Reason

TO HELP HIM FINANCIALLY

Miss Eulalia Frans of El Paso, Texas, while denying that her marriage to Derby Kiser was to have taken place here last week, admits in a statement today that she is engaged to Mr. Kiser and that they are to be married soon. She says that he is delayed at Marshall, Texas for some unknown reason.

She is still in the city and now claims that she is here to assist Mr. Kiser financially with some business. Her statement follows:

"Miss Frans wishes to make known that the story about her and Derby Kiser's marriage to take place here this week is untrue. Miss Frans states that her and Mr. Kiser are engaged to be married soon but the exact day hasn't been set as yet. Miss Frans says she only came here to assist Mr. Kiser financially with some business. Mr. Kiser is delayed at Marshall, Texas, for some unknown reason."

WILL SET FORTH POSITIONN SOON

James E. Watson Will Make Public
Statement in a Few Days Regarding Senatorship

SPENDS SUNDAY AT HIS HOME

Generally Conceded He Will Not
Have Opposition For Short
Term Since Hays Withdrew

Although he has not yet made a public statement setting forth his position in the senatorial race in Indiana, James E. Watson, who spent Sunday at his home here, indicated that he would give out an interview within the next few days explaining his attitude.

Since Will H. Hays has retired from the race for the Republican nomination for the short term, it is not believed that Mr. Watson will have any opposition in the convention. It is now conceded by Republicans all over the state, according to newspapers and press dispatches to Indianapolis newspapers that the best way to settle the senatorial situation was to nominate Harry S. New and James E. Watson, both of whom made such a close race in the primary.

The chief thing of interest politically that developed today was the definite announcement that Governor Ralston had picked Tom Taggart for Senator Shively's place until the election next November. The successful candidate at the polls for the short term will be sworn into office and begin his term immediately after the election. The term for which John W. Kern and Harry S. New will contest will not begin until March 4, 1917.

The Indianapolis Star is authority for the statement that Ralston has picked Taggart for the appointment. This was predicted the next day after Senator Shively died. Whether Taggart will be a candidate for the nomination at the hands of the state convention it not known, but it is freely stated in Democratic circles that Taggart will get the nomination on a platter if he wants it.

It is understood that the Governor tendered the appointment to Mr. Taggart while they were on the train Saturday evening en route to Indianapolis from South Bend, where they had attended the funeral of the late senator.

Mr. Taggart, who was reached by long distance telephone at French Lick last night, declined to discuss the subject, the Star says, considering that a statement in advance of the actual issuance of a commission would be premature, but from friends it was learned that he has said that he will accept the appointment.

House Disapproves Increase From

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 20.—The house went on record overwhelmingly today against a large standing army. By a rising vote of 153 to 82 the house defeated the amendment of Representative Kahn of California to the Hay army reorganization bill which would increase the regular troops from 140,000 to 220,000.

TAGGART NAMED FOR SHORT TERM

National Committeeman From Indiana is Selected to Succeed

GOVERNOR PRAISES HIM

Taggart Says That he Will Support
President Wilson's Policies in
The Senate

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—Governor Ralston today appointed Thomas Taggart United States senator to fill vacancy caused by the death of Benjamin F. Shively's. The appointment holds until Shively's successor is elected next Nov., and qualifies.

"The commission has been prepared," said Ralston. "It will be presented to Mr. Taggart when he arrives here from French Lick at eleven o'clock."

Senator Taggart will help sustain the president's policy. After he received his commission in his hotel, Mr. Taggart said:

"I shall do my humble best to uphold the president's policies, for I believe in them."

Mr. Taggart said that at this time he will not state whether he will go before the Democratic convention as a candidate for the short term.

"I shall make no statement until I have been sworn in at Washington," he said. Taggart said he might leave for Washington today.

Mr. Taggart has been the recognized leader of Indiana Democracy for years, and he is Indiana's national committeeman.

The appointment of Taggart was expected. What the state is wondering about is whether he will be the Democratic party's nominee at the convention April 26. Many politicians held the belief today that Taggart will announce that he will not go before the convention but that Governor Ralston will be the party choice without opposition.

Governor Ralston today addressed a letter to Taggart in which he said their close personal friendship alone would have been insufficient to cause the appointment. He said Taggart had long served the party at a great personal sacrifice in labor and money without hope of personal preferment or reward and that his services as a public official have been characterized by marked efficiency and strictest integrity.

"While you have been at times severely criticized by some within and some without your party, no responsible man has ever laid the betrayal of a trust against you," stated the letter.

WILL CASE POSTPONED

(By United Press.)
Newcastle, Ind., March 20.—The suit of Ruby Smiley and others to break the will of the late Allen Hinchman, her grandfather, which was sent here on a change of venue from Rush county, was postponed today until April 24. No reason for the action was assigned. A number of witnesses were summoned from Rush county and were here ready to testify.

CITED IN COURT

Sheriff Cavitt Saturday took Richard Ralston to Muncie where he was wanted in the divorce proceedings filed by his wife. The court there made an effort to get Ralston into court but was not able to do so until a citation was issued to the sheriff here. Ralston was released and returned here this morning. He is employed on a farm north of the city.

NEW ENUMERATION PHASE

Will Get Number of Mentally Deficient Children in School

County Superintendent C. M. George has received the blanks for taking the school enumeration. The enumeration starts April 10 and must be completed by April 30. The township trustees take the enumeration in the townships and the school boards in the cities and towns. The state board of education will endeavor to obtain the number of mentally deficient children this year and a blank for this purpose is attached to the school enumeration blanks. They want this data in an effort to see if there are children in the public schools who should not be there.

HUSBAND AND SIX CHILDREN

Mrs. Mary Higley, 78 years old, wife of William Higley, died Sunday morning at three o'clock at her home in Fairview, following a long illness from paralysis, although the end was sudden and was hastened by an attack of the heart. Mrs. Higley had been ill for ten years suffering with paralysis.

Mrs. Higley was widely known and had been a resident of the Fairview neighborhood for the past 44 years. She is survived by her husband and six children, John Higley, Misses Sallie and Lena Higley, Mrs. Elmer Thomas, Mrs. Frank Huddleston and Charles Higley. The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday morning at ten o'clock in the Fairview Christian church and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

KERN DELIVERS A EULOGY

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 20.—Democratic and Republican leaders joined today in extending advance greetings to Thomas Taggart of Indiana, due here to take up his new duties as senator next Monday.

"As mayor of Indianapolis—the best that city ever had—and as the holder of other public offices," said Senator Kern, his colleague and Democratic floor leader, "Senator Taggart has shown himself a man of great national executive ability. He started in as a poor boy and is now a wealthy man, but no part of his fortune was made from politics. He and I have been personal friends for many years and our association here certainly will be pleasant."

OPERATING IN SMALL GROUPS

Half Dozen American Detachments
Combining District Southeast of Casas Grandes

NO NEW VILLA OUTRAGES

General Pershing Reports Carranza
Garrison in Territory "Friendly But Passive."

VILLA HUNT TO GO ON.

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 20.—The hunt for Villa will continue "until Villa is taken and his band broken up." That was the official statement of the war office today in response to the query "How long will the search for the brigand be maintained?"

There will be no turning back; no matter what turn events take it was declared.

San Antonio, Texas, March 20.—Like spokes in a great wheel a half dozen American detachments today were operating south and southeast of Casas Grandes combining the entire district for Villa bands. The fact that General Pershing is directing his greatest efforts in a southeasterly direction was announced by General Funston today, apparently indicates that Villa has swung to the south and east since passing through Colonia Gracia and now is near Namiquipa. This is Villa's most familiar territory and evidently confirms the report that he was in the vicinity of Bricora ranch.

At army headquarters it was announced today that Pershing's principal force is well to the south and east of Casas Grandes, broken up into small bodies but all operating from the New Mexican base. General Pershing's dispatch from Casas Grandes does not mention new Villa outrages committed on American colonists in the Casas Grandes district nor has any fighting been reported.

Pershing's dispatches show that he left the main expedition which crossed the border south of Columbus soon after the column was under way. Going west, Pershing joined and assumed command of Colonel Dodd's force which crossed the line near Hachita, N. M.

General Funston stated today he did not know until Friday that Pershing was with the west column. From Casas Grandes, General Pershing reported the Carranza garrison there as "friendly but passive."

"The Mormon colonists in that district," he stated, "looked upon the American troops as a 'rescuing body,' evidently placing slight dependence in the protecting ability of Carranza soldiers."

A marriage license was issued today to Vasco Thrall and Sarah Meal.

The Turning of the Worm

The silk worm has turned. Perhaps he has gone on strike. In any event, it is reported that the supply of raw silk is running short. And the demand is increasing. Merchants with full silk stocks are fortunate. Perhaps that is why they are so eager to tell the fact in the advertising columns of The Daily Republican. And another reason why every woman will want to read the advertising.

"Oh Look!
I can eat 'em all—they won't hurt me! That's because they're made with Calumet—and that's why they're pure, tempting, tasty, wholesome—that's why they won't hurt any kid."

You'll Pay More For Cravat This Spring Because Of Scarcity Of Dye

Men Thought They Were Superior Beings Because Women Pay So Much to be in Style.

A SILK SHIRT FAMINE, TOO

The chances are, if you are a man, you have been smiling a superior sort of a smile when you look at the pictures of spring fashions for women. You thanked your lucky stars that you did not have to dress yourself up like a sore thumb and look like you were going to a masquerade ball. You sighed a contented sigh and realized that although the women's fashions might come and go, you knew just exactly where to get the things you had to wear and also how much they were going to cost you.

But right there you are off. If you don't think so, why just drop into the place where you buy your neckwear, your shirts, your clothes and pretty nearly anything else you put on your back or around your anatomy somewhere, and ask a few questions.

The chances are, if you are a fussy sort of man and particular about your neckwear, that you will have to pay more for a nice looking cravat this spring than you paid for one of the same quality last spring. Why? Because of the dyestuff situation. The European war has stopped, importation of dyestuffs to this country. American manufacturers have been staying up late and getting up early in an effort to concoct something on this side of the water that would take the place of the ingredients they formerly used. Some of them have been moderately successful and others have failed. But they all have succeeded in one thing. They have gone to a lot of expense and they are charging more for their goods as a consequence.

Neckwear is advancing right along and there may be further advances later. Rich looking silk cost real money in these times and the consumer will notice this when he comes to buy. The dealer has to pay more for them and he will have to ask more if he stays in business.

The dye stuff situation has affected the hosiery trade. Silk and cotton hose both are included and some of the hosiery companies already have jumped their prices. This affects the black hose as well as those of fancier colors. Speaking of fancy colors reminds one of the fact that numerous eastern manufacturers are trying to revive interest in "loud" socks. Their representatives are pushing colors for all there is in, especially for the spring and summer trade, when men usually wear low cut shoes.

Whether or not the gay young bloods in Rushville will fall for the fancy colors remains to be seen, but they very likely will.

Even the umbrella makers are complaining that they have to pay a good deal more to dye their umbrella coverings and the price has gone up to some extent.

One local haberdasher predicts a silk shirt famine before spring is very well advanced. Silk shirts jumped into such favor last summer that every local dealer had to reorder numerous times before the season was over. One Rushville dealer tried to order an additional consignment the other day, and was informed by the company whose shirts he handles that there was nothing doing. All the orders for silk shirts that can be filled during the coming summer were then in hand.

The dye situation has had its effect on woollens, whether imported or domestic. Local tailors are getting bills with this stamped on the bottom: "Prices subject to change without notice." Even plain black cloth had advanced in the neighborhood of 70 cents on the yard since this time last year. Fancy suitings have made even a bigger advance and there is yet another raise in store for suitings when the woolen company's representatives come around before long to display their fall samples.

HAS A WONDERFUL SCHEME

Dopetown, Ind., March 20.—Prof. Marblenut, Dopetown's scientist, has arranged to furnish this city with a perpetual cool breeze and two showers a week, all next summer. The breeze is to be made by agitated electric fan operated by current generated in a plant on the banks of Little Muddy, at Pigawick Falls. This monster fan will be made of steel. The showers will be made by an apparatus built on, same principle as a Chinese laundryman's face when he takes a mouthful of water and sprays the wash. The water will come from the river and will be filtered, then sprayed over the city from the face of a colossal Chinese figure standing on the left bank of the river above the power house. Prof. Marblenut is the same man who attempted suicide with a bakery doughnut when his wife left him last year. A friend took the deadly thing from him and saved his life.

London, March 20.—Premier Radoslaff of Bulgaria, was attacked by a would-be assassin while riding in an open carriage in the streets of Sofia yesterday, according to dispatches from both Rome and Paris this afternoon.

A postal employe named Ivanoff fired two shots at the premier, it was stated. The first bullet went wild. The second wounded the prime minister's coachman. Before Ivanoff could fire again a student sprang upon him and disarmed him. The premier himself escaped unhurt.

Bitter Attack Recalled.

Commenting on the bitter attack which John W. Kern made on Benjamin F. Shively in January, 1909, and the demand of the latter that his party give to him, a fatally sick man, a second nomination as a vindication against that attack, the Ft. Wayne News says: "The party leaders were given the shock of their lives two years ago when he demanded a renomination as a repudiation of the charge of Senator Kern that his first election had been purchased, but rather than refuse him the boon they yielded. He began his second term with the present congress and arose from a bed of illness to take the oath of office, returning to the hospital that same day and not leaving his bed again. He was a comparatively young man and some years ago had served for several terms in the lower house, attaining considerable distinction, too, for he was really a man of parts. As senator, however, he was a complete failure, for his impaired health completely destroyed his efficiency and rendered him a negative character. His latter years, moreover, were clouded and considerably embittered by the aspersions cast upon him by his colleague, and upon the whole his senatorial career was one of sadness and melancholy. As fiercely as he resented Senator Kern's ugly charge, he gave no token to the public save the one impassioned denial and bore himself at all times toward his traducer with a dignity that evoked considerable favorable comment, especially from democratic leaders and politicians. Party expediency demanded a nominal bridging of the chasm between Senators Shively and Kern, but it is well known that Senator Shively never forgave what he regarded as a terrible wrong and that he carried to the end a dislike for Senator Kern that was tantamount to positive aversion."

Making Rain.

The city of San Diego, Cal., is having trouble just now over an agreement made with scientific chap to force rain from an unwilling sky.

Several weeks ago, it appears, when it was pretty dry around San Diego, Charles Hatfield drifted into the city and suggested to the authorities that he'd like to moisten things up a bit. The councilmen laughed incredulously and bade him go and "fill Morena dam." That reservoir had never in its history been more than one-third full.

"All right!" replied Hatfield. "I'll do it for $10,000."

The councilmen agreed. It was a fine joke. Hatfield disappeared. Later it was learned that he had erected a tower out in the hills near the dam, with galvanized iron tanks and other mysterious apparatus. The city forgot about him.

Then it started to rain, and kept right on raining. The downpour became a deluge. There were floods. The dam rose higher and higher. And the councilmen remembered Hatfield and his rain factory.

"But it can't be that!" they insisted. Every body around here's been getting rain, and Hatfield's agreement only covered the Morena dam." Some of them, however, were in favor of paying him $5,000 and calling it off before the dam broke. While they hesitated the water kept right on raising, and then Hatfield appeared and demanded his reward.

He couldn't really prove that he had filled that dam himself; but on the other hand, the city couldn't prove that he didn't. And the city attorney has declared that the city must pay the money.

It's a risky business monkeying with Mother Nature's processes.

For Deserted Husbands.

Oakmont, a Pittsburgh suburb, has a "Husbands' Welfare Association." It is a new club, intended to provide solace and comfort for deserted husbands while their wives are "resting" at Palm Beach or when they have "gone to the country" for the summer.

The members seem perfectly sincere about it. They say they've simply "banded together for mutual protection." Their organization, however, is supposed to be subrosa, and the list of officers is secret. There is no club house. The club is expected to meet at the homes of the various members at such times as the mistresses of those homes are away resting or frivolling.

Judging from the enthusiasm with which husbands are applying for membership, it's a pretty safe bet that fewer Oakmont matrons will be impelled by their usual desire to go to the country next summer.

We may not be doing any of the fighting, but we are doing a deal of spitting across the pond at the other fellows.

Love is a mighty good thing in the home, but corn beef and cabbage gets there just the same.

Our long whiskered Uncle is some busy these days performing the international wiggle.

A "good fellow" doesn't need to tell it as he goes along.

Preparedness will be great—when we are prepared.

The 1916 Political Drift

(Anderson Herald)

When John C. Williams, at one time editor of D. J. Crittenger's Democratic paper, walked into a voting place Tuesday and called for a Republican ballot, the Democratic members of the board witnessed one reason why the Republican vote was climbing.

When Glen W. Gates, the well known merchant and for years a Democrat, walked into another polling place and called for a Republican ballot the members of the board witnessed another reason for the large Republican vote.

Down in Stoney Creek and Greene townships Charles Poindexter, for years a Democrat, was a candidate for Republican delegate to the Indianapolis convention, and here was another evidence of Democracy slipping.

These are but three instances but they were types. That sort of thing was going on all over the country, and we presume may have been going on all over the state.

Every little primary, it would seem, has a movement all its own, and this movement marked Tuesday's primary.

It was a protest, many say, against our National administration—its economic and international policies. Quite so.

It was even more than this. It was a protest against Democratic rule in Indiana that has heaped expenses on expenses and made the burdens of taxation in the state and in the Democratic counties of the state almost unbearable.

All this will show up in November, and as a result some distinguished Democratic gentlemen will be out of jobs.

Want no Personal Issue

(Indianapolis Star)

It would be unfortunate if the political issues in November should be clouded with any division in either party of a personal nature, so as to obscure the real questions that voters must decide.

This is the peril involved in the succession to Senator Shively. On the Republican side, at least, the fight seems to menace not only party effectiveness, but the decisiveness of the verdict in November.

The right way to look at this question is to divest the mind wholly of the animosities on each side and recognize the plain facts of the situation. Otherwise the rent between the New and the Watson supporters may be widened and deepened, instead of composed.

Mr. Watson made what is generally felt to be a vigorous and almost single-handed fight for the nomination for Senator Kern's place. He failed of a plurality, however, and apparently he stood to see his strength in the state convention steadily disintegrate.

There is no escape from the fact that Mr. Watson's candidacy was directed specifically toward the long term; and yet there is nothing to prevent or rule out his now being a candidate for the short term suddenly put in the hands of all the state conventions by Senator Shively's death.

There is no just cause for resentment against Mr. Watson's entrance into this contest, precisely as there would be no just basis for Mr. Watson or his friends to object to entrance into the race by Mr. Hays or Judge Myers or any one else. It is a new deal for a new prize.

Much depends in this matter upon the spirit shown on all hands as to whether this controversy is to degenerate into so bitter a fight as to imperil Republican success, and to prevent a fair test of the issues at stake before the voters in November. Men who place patriotism above personal animosities should beware of being drawn into the vindictive mood by extreme partisans of the opposing camps.

People's Column

New York City, New York.
To the Daily Republican.

I wish to give to my friends and fellow citizens my second week's stay in the big town. The city of New York is the most marvelous exemplification of those traits of the American people which has made the United States of today. Interest in New York does not lie in the mere magnitude of the city but is founded on enterprise. The bold conception and amazing achievement which might well challenge the pen of him who would celebrate the American at the beginning of the Twentieth Century. In describing New York none other than the superlatives will suffice. It is in area the largest city in the world and in population is exceeded only by one. The boroughs are linked together with the greatest suspension bridges and pierced throughout their lengths and breadth by the most extensive subway systems.

Broadway, extending from the Battery north to Yonkers is the longest street in the world. The system of parks is the largest and costliest in extent and in the sums devoted to maintain them unapproached in America or Europe. The gigantic office buildings of the business district are awing. They are the modern wonders of the world. There are none to compare with them.

Their foundations are sunk deeper down the center of the earth. Their summits are uplifted higher towards the heavens. The largest steamships afloat make New York their port and from the deck of the incoming ship the world-traveler beholds the towering bulk of Manhattan with amazement. The superb mansions of upper Fifth avenue and Riverside Drive are among the most luxurious of the dwellings of man as those streets are the grandest of residential avenues.

The city's hotels and apartment houses are peerless in size and appointments; and each year witnesses their development. Story after story, luxury to luxury, magnificence to magnificence the building operations characteristic of the day are judicious in these magnitude and engineering problems they involve. Municipality enterprise are unrivaled and in scope and cost—the Catskill Mountains water system under construction at a cost of $175,000,000 and the new subway railroad system involving an expenditure of $300,000,000 are likely to hold the record for generations to come and then to be exceeded only by some new and more daring project. conceived here and on Manhattan Island.

The statistics which express the activities of the metropolis are in figures which are incomprehensible. The postoffice handles an average of 10,000,000 pieces of mail matter every twenty-four hours and the city contributes $12,000,000 annually to postal revenues. The surface cars carry 452,000,000 passengers in a year. On the floor of the New York stock exchange more than 3,000,000 shares of stock change hands in a single day. The banks of New York lead the world in volume of clearings. New York is the financial center of the world.

Great and surpassing as the city is, each year adds to its material greatness and commanding influence. In the following I will describe some of the more conspicuous features of the gaining and expanding New York of the present: The Metropolis of America from which it is emerging, that city of the future which will be the metropolis of the world. When I approached New York by river or bay I saw in the view of the high buildings of Manhattan Island a picture which has no parallel in the cities of the world. My first impression of the height and magnitude of these architectural marvels is strengthened as I wander through the down town streets and to another make my way between passing from one shadowy canon in tremendous cliffs. The skyscrapers of New York constitute one of the most impressive and interesting features of the city. I wish I could tell you how I feel about it but I can not it is so great. I have just been on the west side of New York and when I see more of it I will write. Best wishes to all.

CHAMPION RED SOX START WORK

Carrigan's Crew Out to Repeat

This Year—Not Much Chance

For Recruits to Break In

LAST TO BEGIN TRAINING

With Infield And Outfield The Same

The Rookies Will Find The

Going Pretty Hard

Hot Springs, Ark., March 20.—Last of the major league clubs to start Spring training, the Boston Red Sox get together here today. They limbered up a bit yesterday, but got down to real cases today.

One short month only remains between them and the reveille of the ump's call, yet Boss Bill Carrigan feels confident that his Champs will be in top-notch form when the season starts.

For that longest of weeks, the first of a retaining season, the battery men have been toiling under the broiling sun and when the new arrivals get down to serious-batting practice today, they will have to face curves with mid-season breaks.

From all corners of the U. S. A., the Champions of the World gathered together for the start of the 1916 season, with the watch-word: "Repeat!" From every corner of the field or hotel, whether by player or onlooker, the subject of conversation was conjecture as to the repetition of a certain performance.

The only sad faces were those of the recruits, for where the rookies are going to break into the playing line-up of the Clan Carrigan this year, it is hard to see. With Hobby and Gainer both full of pep and fighting for the regular berth on the first station; Jack Barry, who arrived in mid-summer shape from his practice at Holy Cross, holding down the key-stone sack; Larry Gardner on the hot corner and Scott and Janvin cutting up in the short field, to say nothing of the fence-busting-and-protecting corporation of Spoke, Duffy and Harry, it is difficult to say where in the regular line-up the ump will announce in about a month, a rookies, no matter how ambitious, is going to fit.

The answer may be found in some unforeseen stroke, an accident to a regular or the development of a real phenom among the recruits, but present indications are that this will not transpire. Among the battery men the chief objects of interest are (1) Sam Agnew, whose pep and cheery good-nature and iron whip are already hailed with joy by his new mates. (2) The work of the three heroes of last Fall's conquest of the Phillies, Foster, Leonard and Shore; each out to have his best season, and each pitching like a house-a-fire and (3) The generally deadly appearance of the rest of Carrigan's fingers, each claiming he is ready to step in and pitch a full game against a team of Cobbs and Kauffs.

The work of Shorten, newest addition to the outer-garden, will be watched with much interest by all concerned these next few days, as with the passing of Olaf Henderson, an accident to one of the Big-Three-who-live-near-the-fence would leave a jagged hole, should the latest acquisition not come up to expectations.

MINISTER LOUDLY PRAISES TANLAC

The Rev. E. T. Miles, of West Terre

Haute, Relieved by Master

Medicine.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 20.—A minister of the gospel had added his words of praise to that of thousands of other Indiana people who have been benefited by Tanlac, the Master Medicine. He is the Rev. E. T. Miles, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, West Terre Haute, Ind. He said:

"Tanlac appealed to me because I knew of the good it was doing others: I suffered from indigestion and catarrhal affection. I also had a slight kidney trouble. Shortness of breath annoyed me considerably and, at times, I was so nervous I could not rest at night.

"I sleep fine, now, since taking Tanlac, and feel stronger and am better in every way. The stomach trouble has been relieved and my stomach has been very much benefited. Tanlac has given me great relief and I am glad to recommend it to my friends."

The words of praise and commendation of such prominent men as the Rev. Mr. Miles, men who stand for righteousness, honesty, and integrity, in their community, should prove the merits of Tanlac. Tanlac is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney troubles and is a tonic, invigorant appetizer and blood purifier.

Tanlac is sold exclusively in Rushville, at F. E. WOLCOTT'S drug store.

THEY'RE CALLING HIM "SIMPLICITY JIM" NOW

Saturday was a Red Letter day for Oneal Brothers, for the sales and crowds of that day exceeded those of any previous day in the history of the establishment. It is estimated that between ten and fifteen hundred people attended their spring opening in the afternoon alone. Ample entertainment had been provided for the visitors. One of the exhibitions was that of the "Simplicity" incubator which is being sold for this firm by James Tarplee. Because Mr. Tarplee has the distinction of selling more Simplicity Incubators retail than any other man in Indiana, the firm which makes them has named him "Simplicity Jim," and has sent out folders bearing his picture and the secret of his success. Although the season has barely opened he has already sold over ninety incubators, twenty of them being sold on Saturday at the opening. Mr. Tarplee and the Oneal establishment are both highly complimented in the advertising folder which is being sent broadcast over the state.

DYE SHORTAGE SEEN.

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 20.—A shortage of aniline dyes here today threatened to cause mere man to rival the opposite sex in a display of gaudy headgear. Hats, depicting all colors of the rainbow, were on sale while the old stiff black chapeau was being worn as a sort of luxury. The tendency of conservative men to "hang crepe on their brains" is being curbed because of the failure of American chemists to meet the demands for dyes from all branches of the apparel industry. "Hatmakers are among those most seriously affected by the dye shortage," said J. Harris of St. Louis, hat manufacturer. "The darker the hat the more dye demanded."

Amusements

The Princess offers the feature picture, "Rags," for the program tonight. Mary Pickford, the unrivalled favorite of the screen is featured. In the role of the little half-breed girl who renounces happiness, opportunity and even safety for the man she loves, Mary Pickford is superb. Although the nature of this characterization is new to Miss Pickford she suggests the semi-Indian maid with such force and naturalness as to be utterly astonishing in her effectiveness. It is an original story woven about the star and it provides her with plenty of opportunities. The Indian maid is in love with a white man and the story is really based on this. Tomorrow the three act drama "Pieces of the Game," will be shown. The management of the Princess announced today that "The Battle Cry of Peace" has been booked for March 30.

The Mystic will show the regular program of pictures tonight and in addition the vaudeville feature, "Lore, the Girl of Mystery." "Lore" is said to be a mystic of extraordinary ability and is sure to prove a novel attraction. The picture program is a four act feature "The Ploughshare." Tomorrow Lore will again furnish the vaudeville feature with a change of pictures.

The Gem offers a three reel feature "The Blood of Our Brothers," for the program tonight. Crane Wilbur is featured. It is said to be an intensely interesting drama and is taken from life. Tomorrow matinee and night the second installment of "The Girl and the Game" will be shown. This is the Helen Holmes serial.

GOLDEN RULE IS STILL IN VOGUE

For Name of God to be Hallowed is Blessing For Individual And Society, M. E. Pastor Says

REVIVAL SERVICES CONTINUE

Good crowds were in attendance at all the meetings of the St. Paul's M. E. church which were held in connection with the revival meetings yesterday. Announcements for the coming week were that the services would continue in the evening at 7:30; services will also be held each afternoon except Monday and Saturday at 2:30; the children between the ages of 11 and 15 will rehearse for the junior choir on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock; and those under eleven will practice on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Special music was furnished by the chorus choir at the morning and evening services. The Rev. W. M. Whitsitt preached in the morning on a phrase in the Lord's prayer, "Hallowed be thy name." It was the second in a series of sermons on this subject. He showed that for the name of God to be hallowed was a blessing for the individual, for society, for a nation and for the world; that his name should be hallowed here on earth, for no man is fitted to die if he is not fitted to live. "The Golden Rule is still in vogue," he said.

The revival was extended to the Epworth League service when Clarence E. Lane led the meeting and special music was furnished by Miss Norma Smith.

The congregation of the United Presbyterian church will hold a public reception Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the church for the new pastor of the church, the Rev. John T. Aiken, and his wife, who came here recently from Wilmerding, Pa. Everyone is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck entertained a number of their friends on Wednesday evening at an old-time taffy pull. The affair was as much fun as the name suggests and all the guests joined in the merriment by pulling taffy. Games too, were played and aided in the informality of the pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Capp entertained with a week-end houseparty at their pretty country home south of the city. One of the features of the affair was the dinner party yesterday noon. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Young and son, Donald, and Dr. and Mrs. Carl F. Beher and son, William.

ELITE CLUB

Mrs. O. M. Dale entertained the members of the Elite Club at her home in North Main street this afternoon when the congenial group of ladies spent a happy afternoon over the card tables. The affair was a very informal one and all the more pleasant for being so.

INFORMAL PARTY

Miss Mary Ellen Carrol entertained several of her friends informally last evening at her home in West First street. Music and conversation made the evening an enjoyable one and dainty refreshments were served as the evening drew near a close. Those enjoying the hospitality of Miss Carrol were the Misses Marie McKee, Hilda McKee, Georgia Lehman, of Marion, Margaret Kelly, and Helen Carrol and Louis Mauzy, Perry Onal, Earl Osborne, Will Fitzgerald, John Schrichte, and John Kennedy.

VISIT I. U. FRIENDS

Several young people from here were guests over the week end of friends in Bloomington who are students in Indiana university, all returning home last evening. Harold Wolcott was the guests of his sister, Miss Marguerite Wolcott, and Bruce Carr visited his sister, Miss Mary Jane Carr. The Misses Gladys Wallace, Edith Wilk and Dorothy Thomas, the last named a student at De Pauw, were guests of friends at the Kappa Alpha Theta house and all attended the Theta dance and other social functions.

DINNER PARTY

Thursday, being the twelfth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Souder of Carthage, their home was the scene of a great deal of merriment in the evening when several invited guests were entertained at dinner. Decorations of St. Patrick's day were used through the prettily decorated rooms. Green and white ribbons were suspended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, which was lit with green and white candles. The color scheme was also carried out in the delicate luncheon which was served. The hostess was assisted in the hospitalities by the Misses Vanche Palmer, Doris Beher and Stella Rhodes. Those enjoying this pleasant affair were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leisure, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Dalrymple, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Beher, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Stevens, Estill Fannin and Clement Poston.

ROOK PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hinchman entertained a number of their friends at a Rook party on Saturday evening at their pretty country home. Games and contests of a different nature made the evening, which was interspersed with music, a lively and delightful one for the guests. A tempting repast was served near the close of the pleasant affair. Mr. Bowles and Mr. Hinchman were the musicians for the affair, furnishing pretty music throughout the evening. In this merry party were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jarrett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lige Billings, Mr. and Mrs. George Austen and daughter Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hinchman, Miss Zola Bird, Omer Bowles and Lawrence Hamon.

Miss Erema Wilk had as guests yesterday Miss Helene Whitesides of Franklin, Miller Hamilton and Don Miller of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Reynolds were the delightful entertainers Sunday, when they had Mr. and Mrs. John Lindale and Miss Ameta Maey, for 6 o'clock dinner.

Mrs. Wooten and children, James and Mary Ellen, of Cincinnati who have been the guests of Mrs. James Fisher of Glenwood for the past few days, will leave for their home in a few days.

SUPPER PARTY

Miss Ione Piper entertained a few of her friends informally yesterday evening at supper. A delicious supper was served at the prettily decorated table to the guests who included Miss Ruth Laughlin, Van Lewark and Fred Radcliffe.

ENTERTAINS LEAGUE.

Mrs. William Combs of Glenwood entertained about sixty members of the Glenwood League at her home Friday evening. Games of all kinds amused the young people during the course of the pleasant affair. Shamrocks had been generously used in decorating the rooms which presented a festive air for the holiday. Light refreshments were served by the hostess to the merry company.

MEAL-THRALL

Miss Sarah Meal, daughter of James T. Meal, and Vasco Thrall, son of James Thrall, were married Saturday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt. The young people are both from this county. Mr. Thrall, however, at present is employed in Indianapolis, where he and his bride will make their future home.

The Misses Josephine and Marie Kelly entertained a company of their friends at dinner last evening. The prettily appointed dinner was made especially tempting in the dainty surroundings which had been provided. A fragrant bouquet of sweet peas embellished the center of the table which was lit only by the soft glow from the green candles. A pleasant social evening followed the elaborate course dinner.

WITH MR. AND MRS. STEVENS

A delightful party was given by Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Stevens at their beautiful country residence Friday evening. Green and white was the color suggestion in the dining room, where a dainty collation was served and the guests received favors of miniature pipes and shamrocks. The hostess had exercised her proverbial art for clever entertaining in the games and contests with which she amused her guests. They were Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Souder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leisure, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Dalrymple, Miss Doris Beher and Miss Vanche Palmer.

SURPRISE PARTY

In honor of the birthday of her husband, Mrs. W. T. Smith entertained a number of friends Saturday evening at their pretty home west of Glenwood. The affair had been cleverly arranged without the knowledge of the guest of honor. Music and dancing were the chief diversions during the gay affair which was closed with the service of a delicious luncheon. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander, of Rushville, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Myers and daughter, Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Leonard and family, the Misses Mary Laughlin, Oletha Duke, Lona Chaney, Mary Gray, Maggie Laughlin, of Milroy, Ray and Harry Richardson, Charles and Dempsey Chaney, Vincent Gray, Lewis Gehring, Charles Mingle and Mr. and Mrs. Raloh Morgan of Glenwood.

A Great National Public Utility

That concerns all merchants and all people

THE original Cash Register rang a bell, indicated and recorded the amount of the purchase. It benefited the merchant only.

In a third of a century this old model has developed into a Cash Register that directly benefits every man, woman and child who spends money in a store.

This new Cash Register equally concerns every merchant and clerk, every banker and wholesaler in this land.

It furnishes every customer with a receipt or sales slip.

It prints on this the amount paid or charged.

On this is also printed the date of the sale and who made it.

It forces a duplicate, printed record for the merchant.

It prevents disputes over charges and bills paid.

It saves shoppers' time.

It gives the merchant all his profits. It gives him more money for his family.

It promotes more and quicker sales.

It protects each clerk against making errors and against the mistakes of others.

It rewards the diligent clerk by telling his employer which one makes the largest number of sales and which one gets the greatest amount of business.

It assures the banker additional security for the money he loans the merchant.

It gives the wholesaler additional assurance that the merchant will have money to pay his bills.

It furnishes the banker and the wholesaler mechanical evidence that the merchant's statement of his business is correct.

It is a business necessity.

MERCHANTS!!

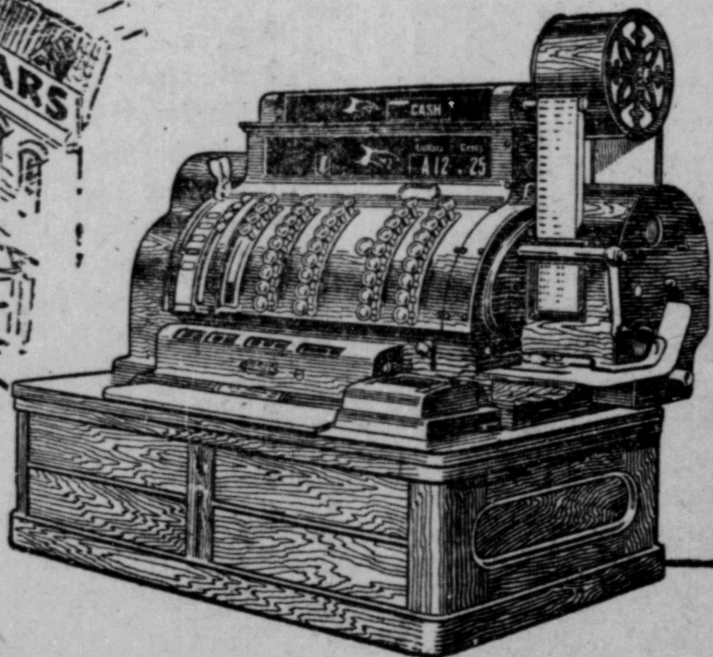

We have new 1916 models that give this perfect service.

Write us today or see our agent in your city and learn how you can secure one of these public service machines.

Liberal allowances are made for old National Cash Registers that were good in their day, but do not so completely protect you or give the valuable service our 1916 Models do.

LONGER REACH FAVORS CHAMP

Moran Will Have to go Some if he Ever Plants a Blow on Willard's Jaws.

ODDS ARE NOW AGAINST HIM

Will Enter Ring Weighing About Sixty Pounds More Than Challenger

(By United Press.)

New York, March 20.—Towering five inches above his huge adversary and possessing a reach five and one-half inches longer, Jess Willard has two of the great defensive works known to boxing thrown up around his precious jaw-bone. If Frank Moran, a comparative mid-gut, is to hang flowers and ivy on Willard's nether maxillary he will have to fairly leap in the air.

Six feet seven inches is the altitude of Big Jess. Moran's red thatch stands a mere six feet one inch above the calloused soles of his battleship feet. And before he gets near enough to start aviating toward Willard's classic features the boy from Pittsburgh must wade through a mass of arms 83½ inches long. He works under a handicap right there, for his own arms are only 78 inches long, a right respectable pair of flails in ordinary circles but puny outworks in Willard's gigantic company. One of Moran's favorite modes of battle bespeaks the craft of the former globe trotter. His watchers have found that Moran likes to work his man into a crouching attitude, draw down his arms with a poke at the body and then swing over the old right-hand wallop to the jaw.

The odds are that he can't do that with Willard. Big Jess fought a safe battle against Jack Johnson, standing almost upright throughout with his arms extended far in front of him in excellent blocking formation. He refused to crouch and take a chance on meeting up with marauding haymakers brought up from the floor. His personal disposition, too, may stand Willard in good stead in the seventy-thousand dollar skit, for he is not a belligerent type, preferring to let the other fellow ram his face against the outstretched Willard mitts.

Moran's two knockouts over Jim Coffey demonstrated his punching ability more decisively than any of his other performances. True, there are those who suspect the tint of the Corkonian's vertebrae but none who saw the jolts go home had any lingering doubts of the drive that impelled them. In the second fight Moran swept over his right with the force of a mule's hind tootsie. Right away the bells began to tinkle in Coffey's steeple and he remained away picking daisies for a considerable period of time. Those who know fighting and fighters recall the fate of little Tommy Burns, perhaps the hoariest bit of frost that ever clung to the championship landscape.

He went against Jack Johnson under a similar handicap and like Fainting Bertha, never had a chance. Burns was 5 feet seven inches tall and Johnson's height was six feet, one-fourth of an inch. Despite the difference in height, Burns had it on the gloomy exile in reach. His arms were 74½ inches long and Johnson's only 73. Johnson weighed 220 and Burns 179 in that fight, but Moran has proved that weights don't amount to much when fighters get above the 175-pound mark. As Willard weighs about 57 pounds more than Moran, perhaps it is just as well for the challenger to stick to his contention.

MANY TEACHERS WILL ATTEND

State-Wide Vocational Conference Promises to Bring Together Many Educators.

PROGRAM ABOUT COMPLETED

Industrial Survey Already Under Way Will Furnish Interesting Topic For This Branch.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 20.—Plans for the state-wide conference on vocational education March 23-25 indicate that it will bring such a galaxy of vocational education talent to Indiana as has not been seen at any other single conference. Vocational experts of wide experience will be on the program and the whole field is designed to bring together the educators and other persons interested in vocational education for the purpose of discussing the present status in Indiana and methods of meeting the present problems.

The action which has been taken to make an industrial survey of the state for the purpose of guiding vocational education makes this meeting one of unusual interest to Indiana school men. The work of the survey is already under way at Evansville with Charles H. Winslow, the vocational expert, in charge.

The meeting of the conference will open Thursday evening March 23, with address by President W. E. Stone of Purdue University, and Dr. Charles A. Prosser, director of the Dunwoody Institute of Minneapolis. The former will speak on "The Status of Vocational Education in Indiana," and the latter on "The Minneapolis Survey." Friday evening the subject of the discussion will be the "Indiana Vocational Survey." The speakers will be Charles H. Winslow, director of vocational research for the state board of education, and R. J. Leonard, director of vocational education of Indiana University, who is in charge of the Richmond Survey now in progress.

Saturday morning Professor Walter Sargent, director of art education, University of Chicago, will speak on "Art in Education," and L. S. Hawkins, state director of agricultural education in New York, will speak on "The Value of Agricultural Education." The general session will be closed Saturday afternoon with addresses by Charles R. Richards, director of Cooper Institute of New York, and Congressman S. D. Fess, of Ohio, president of Antioch college, and member of the National Commission of Vocational education.

Round table discussions on part time and evening schools in industrial, agricultural, domestic science and the training of teachers in the different subjects will be conducted. Miss Elizabeth Rowe of the University of Minnesota and a leader in the field of domestic science education will take an active part in these programs. Members of the board of education and other persons including Frank Duffy, general secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Pettis Reid of Richmond, President W. W. Parsons of Indiana State Normal, President W. L. Bryan of Indiana University, Superintendents B. F. Moore of Muncie, and C. M. McDaniels of Hammond, County Superintendent Samuel L. Scott of Jeffersonville, President W. A. Millis of Hanover college, J. G. Collicott and John A. Lapp of Indianapolis will also take part in the program. It is expected that several hundred school men of the state will be present at this conference.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

ICE MEN WANT BETTER RATING

Indiana Association Will Make Effort to Have Profession Looked Upon Better by Public.

BUSINESS IS HAZARDOUS

Declare Consumers Are Not as Appreciative of Their Efforts as They Should Be.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—The Indiana Ice Dealers' association convention here next Wednesday and Thursday will take steps to establish the ice merchant in better standing with the public. Just what form the effort will take has not of course been determined. All that has been determined is that some step will be taken.

The organization feels that the composite known as the consumer has not been as appreciative of the effort of the ice makers as ice dealer deserves. From the viewpoint of the ice dealer the feeling of the public is unjust and unfair and the effort will be to bring the public around to an attitude of appreciation instead of criticism.

"To turn water into ice and sell it looks as easy as turning paper into money by processes known to the United States mint," said President Herbert B. DePrez of the association. "But it isn't. That's why so many icemen fail. The death statistics for the ice business are below what is normal for the general business world. In other words more men in the ice business fail in proportion to the starts made than fail in the aggregate of all businesses. The clothing business, for instance, is safer. Start twenty ice dealers in business today and in twenty years from now there will be but one alive, and prosperous. That is what I mean by the mortality record for the ice business."

"The reason is that the business is hazardous. The profits are small compared with the cost of production, delivery and collection. The public has not been appreciative of these things, and has been inclined to condemn ice men for high prices when prices were in reality too low for any but the most efficient and careful dealer."

P. J. LYNCH WILL SPEAK IN THE EAST

Retiring District Chairman Will Campaign in Interest of Fairbanks Candidacy

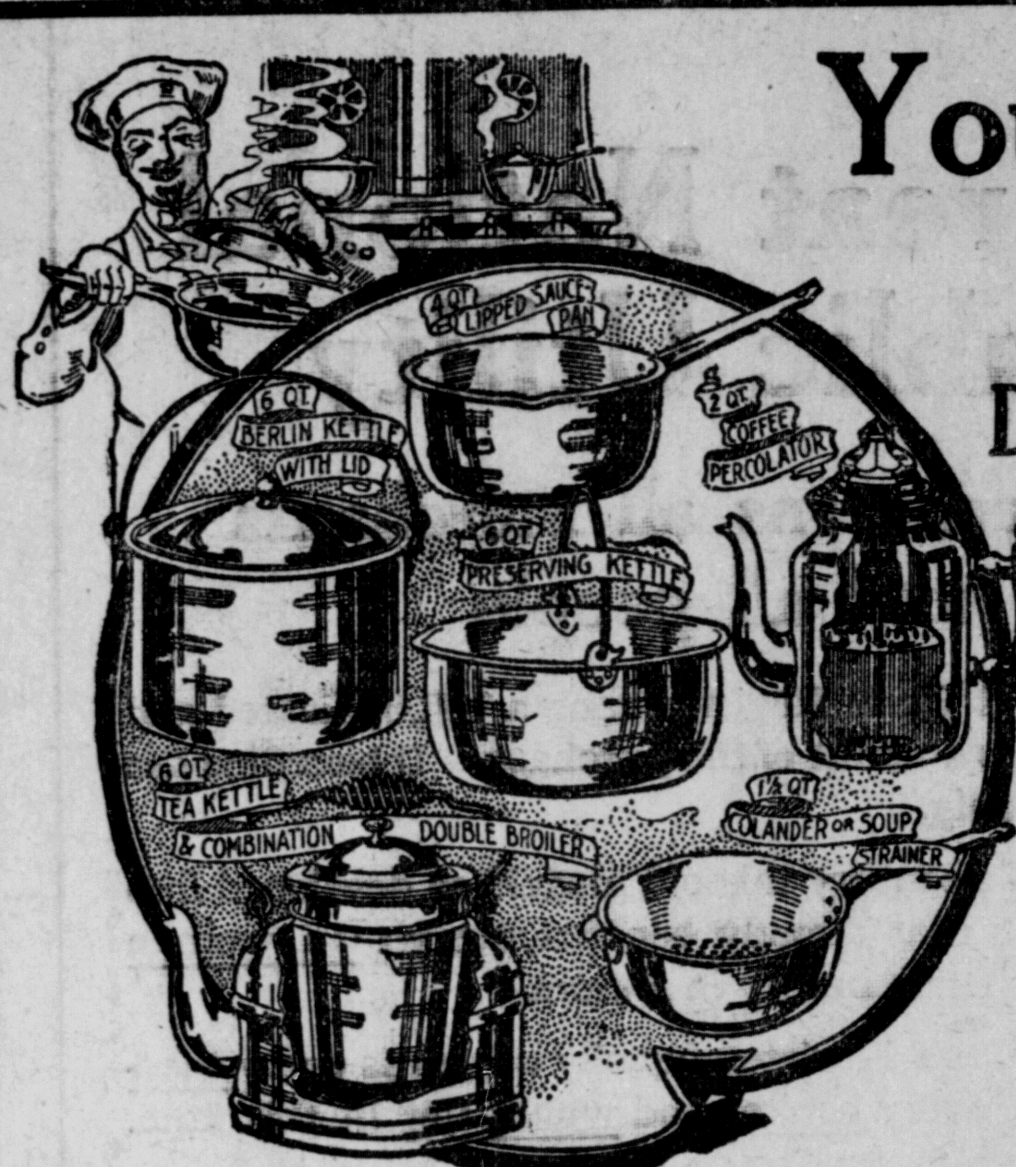

WILL GO TO OKLAHOMA SOON

Richmond, Ind., March 20.—Campaigning for Charles Warren Fairbanks, the Indiana entry into the G. O. P. free-for-all for the presidential nomination, will be the occupation of P. J. Lynch of New-castle for the next few months. Mr. Lynch has accepted a contract with the Republican national committee to tour the east next fall in the national campaign and he also has negotiations with the Indiana state committee for campaign speeches in five counties in the western part of the state.

Within the next few months Mr. Lynch will go to Oklahoma in the interests of Mr. Fairbanks and expects to pass several weeks there touring the state and making speeches advocating the nomination of Mr. Fairbanks. After the Chicago convention he expects to devote most of his time to work for the national committee.

E. E. POLK

OH YES, WAR HAS AFFECTED THE NEWSPAPER BUSINESS AS OTHERS

One could scarcely be blamed for jumping at conclusions and saying, "some distracted housewife has lost her shopping list," upon finding on the sidewalk a scrap of paper on which was scribbled, "blankets, felt, glycerine, rubber blankets, paper and ink, muslin." Nevertheless the finder might be altogether wrong—perhaps the shopping list belonged to the boss buyer for the mechanical department of a newspaper.

Most newspaper readers may wonder what blankets, muslin, felt, rubber sheets and other items that are handy things to have about the house have to do with the mechanical department of a newspaper, but just at this time the buyer who dropped his shopping list has more serious things to wonder about. As the cost of the articles listed and other items too many to mention continue to climb day by day he is devoting what little time he has for subjective exercises to wondering when the boosting of newspaper expenses is going to stop.

Ever since the momentous August of 1914—especially during the past six months—the skyrocketing of the prices of necessities around a newspaper plant has gone on with a beauty of consistency which arouses absolutely no enthusiasm among publishers throughout the country who have to foot the bills. Products essential to the publication of newspapers have jumped in price all the way from 10 or 15 to 3,000 and more per cent.

War, directly or indirectly, is given as the reason for the enormous increase in the publisher's bills. And as war seems likely to continue for some time, so too the market sky-rocketing promises to go to heights even beyond the present astonishing prices. Nowadays it is next to impossible to obtain market quotations for even so short a time ahead as "next week."

It should be remembered also that concrete instances of the high cost of publishing given here are the lowest prices obtainable, because the publisher buys in large bulk. He cannot cut in quantity—in fact, war and rumors of more war mean the printing of papers far in excess of the output of normal times, which is one, merely one, item of war time increase in expenses that the thoughtless and uninformed overlook when uttering the fallacy so often heard, "the newspapers want war." And the publisher does not cut in quantity of material.

Before the war, to begin with, the important item of tons of metal used by the linotyping departments in a daily newspaper plant, the metal which is a composition of lead, tin and antimony, cost 81 cents a pound. A week ago it cost 124 cents during the forenoon. In the afternoon the cost was 13 cents. A few days later last week it was boosted to 134 cents a pound. And so the kiting goes on, the increase in cost alone amounting to hundreds of dollars a year.

The various editions of newspapers cannot, to use a shop expression, be "put to bed," without blankets any more than humans can. And the newspaper presses must have the blankets in summer as well as winter.

Press rollers, which are made largely of glue, glycerine and molasses, have gone up, so manufacturers notified the consumers last week, 18 per cent. Glycerine—and the quality used in newspaper plants is not the pure white glycerine one buys in drug stores, but a quality less refined—has taken one flying leap from an ante-bellum price of 19 cents a pound to 54 cents.

The common black inks are affected because the rubber manufacturers are corraling as much of the carbon as they can and using it in place of zinc and lead, a detail which will account for the preponderance of rubber goods having a black cast, which shoppers soon will find on market in place of the white rubber they've been accustomed to see in the shops.

Type foundries have increased prices 20 per cent, and no let up in the boosting in sight. Gum arabic, necessary in the making of matrices in printing plants, has jumped 100 per cent and wrapping paper, used in the circulation department, costs twice as much as it did before the war, with wrapping rope of sisal from Yucatan and jute wrapping ropes and twines from Calcutta now selling at an increase almost as great.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY.

Dallas, Tex., March 20.—Otto H. Lang, street commissioner, when asked by a young man in his department for a raise, told him he didn't deserve a raise because he had not done any work at all during the year. Lang proved his assertion like this:—Each year has 365 days. You sleep eight hours each day, which equals 122 days. This leaves 243 days. You rest eight hours each day, which equals 122 days. This leaves 121 days. There are fifty-two Sundays that you do not work or 52 days. This leaves 69 days. You have one and a half hours each day for lunch, or 28 days. Two weeks' vacation each year, or 14 days. This leaves 1 day, and this being the Fourth of July we close on that day, so you've done no work at all.

SAYS INDIANA WILL BENEFIT

Conference on Charities and Correction Expected to Aid Health Movement in State.

DR. SMITH GIVES HIS VIEWS

One of the Divisions Will be For General Subject of "Health" it is Announced.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—"Every move for public health has for its aim and legitimate outcome, the prevention of all disease, including insanity," said Dr. S. E. Smith, medical superintendent of the Eastern Indiana Hospital for the insane. "The presence of the National Conference and Charities and Correction in Indiana this year will help along that great cause. I expect to see Indiana benefit directly and indirectly and the great body of her citizens more appreciative of the human uplift movement for which the Conference stands."

One of the divisions of the Conference is on the general subject, "Health," and under this division the subject of "Ill Health in Its Bearing on Insanity," will be discussed. Dr. Smith is impressed with the importance of the discussion of this subject under the general heading, "Health."

"The term insanity does not stand for a well defined condition," he said. "Mental disease is a better expression and is slowly displacing the former in medical discussion as indicating a disordered mind from any cause. Diseases of the mind are many and vary as do other diseases in their symptoms and manifestations. Ninety-five per cent. of the mental disease are the result of other diseases which directly or indirectly invade the brain and other parts of the nervous system and disorder the brain's functions. It is admitted that the mind may be disordered without physical disease as the basis, but such cases are rare and exceptions to the rule."

CHICAGO CABBY BURNS CARRIAGES

Unable to Stand Taxicab Competition And Owner Applies The Torch—Failed to Sell Outfit.

ORIGINALLY COST $25,000

(By United Press.) Chicago, March 20.—Discouraged by taxicab competition and unable to sell his old fashioned cabs and carriages even for a song, Abel Deming poured kerosene upon them and burned them up. Deming has been rich and poor several times since he came here during the World's Fair. In 1893 Deming was flat broke except for his horse. He sold it, came to Chicago and, working at odd jobs, saved his money and bought a horse and cab. The horse and cab became a lively stable and then fortune smiled and coins jingled merrily into his pockets.

Then the race course lured him and Deming rubbed elbows with John Drake. Then the bubble burst when the fair was over and the race course saw Deming no more. A few years passed and Deming still carried passengers through the streets of Chicago until one day a snorting automobile whizzed past his cab. At the age of 71, Deming is left with but a meager part of the money he once had. He tried to sell his carriage, offering to part with an outfit worth $25,000 now, for $5,200 but there were no takers, so Deming drew his carriages from their storage shed, poured a can of gasoline over them and touched a match to the relics of the heyday of the horse.

MATCH MAKER TO START COLLEGE

Ohio Millionaire Will Turn His Large Farm Into Agricultural Schools Soon.

WILL RIVAL OTHER SCHOOLS

(By United Press.) Barberton, O., March 20.—Ohio C. Barber, millionaire maker of matches, now 74, plans to make "the best farmers in the world" at "the greatest agricultural school in America." Barber is drawing plans today to convert his famous $3,000,000, 3500 acre farm, Anna Dean, into an agricultural school adjunct of the Western Reserve University, Cleveland. According to Barber his institution will rival M. A. C., Illinois, Wisconsin, or Cornell in agricultural teaching and experimental work.

Barber's farm was named in honor of his first wife, Anna Dean. The farm is now operated with experts in charge of the various departments. It is stocked with 1600 prize cattle and hogs. Barber will start construction of dormitories this year. He will retain control of the institution until his death.

"I expect to live a long time yet," said Barber, who recently married his secretary, aged 38. "I want to live on the farm the rest of my life. I'm a farmer first and last. I hope to have the new college under way within a year."

BRYAN WILL TOUR STATE FOR DRYS

Following Banquet Tonight in Honor of His Birthday he Will Take Stump in Home State.

WAS 59 YEARS OLD YESTERDAY

(By United Press.) Lincoln, Neb., March 20.—The annual Bryan birthday banquet, given each year in honor of the former secretary of state by his friends and admirers, will be held tonight in honor of the former secretary of state by his friends and admirers, will be here tonight and arrangements have been made for the usual large gathering. It was fifty-six years ago yesterday, in Illinois, that Bryan was born, but because the anniversary came this year on Sunday the celebration was postponed until today.

Following the banquet Mr. Bryan will make a tour of Nebraska towns where there are local fights on the liquor question and following this tour he will make a general campaign throughout the state as one of the chief speakers for the non-partisan anti-saloon committee on behalf of the adoption of the proposed prohibition amendment to the Nebraska constitution.

WANTS USE OF ROADS.

(By United Press.) Washington, March 20.—The United States has asked or will ask for permission to ship munitions and supplies to the expeditionary force over Mexico's railway, it was learned on high authority. The request was made through the war department by General Funston.

THEY REFUSE TO EAT

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded, which causes anxiety and worry. To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.

The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies all the elements children need to build up their strength. They relish Scott's—it is free from alcohol.

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

HITS POLICEMAN AND THEN RUNS

Omer Adams Takes Advantage of
Price While Latter Pushes

HE AND COMPANION FLEE

Policeman Fires Shot And Catches
Adams—Ed Regan, Who Ran
Gives Himself Up

Trying to take two men to jail, push a bicycle and carry a basket of beer all at the same time proved too much of a task for Policeman Price Saturday night but he eventually succeeded even if the men did run and for a time threaten to make good their escape.

Policeman Price was attempting to take Omer Adams and Ed Regan to jail. He was pushing his own bicycle and carrying the basket of beer found in possession of the two. When near the corner of Third and Harrison street, Adams is said to have struck Price and then the two ran in opposite directions. Price fired one shot at the fleeing form of Adams and then proceeded to follow him and let Regan go.

Adams crawled under a rear porch at the home of O. C. Brann in North Harrison street and was pulled out by Price. The policeman took all the fight out of Adams by a blow over the head. The blow was well directed and flashed with great force because it resulted in the smashing of Price's mace and the raising of a large welt on Adams' head.

Regan gave himself up and was placed in jail with Adams. This morning in police court Regan pleaded guilty and was fined one dollar and costs. Adams appeared in court with an attorney and filed motions for a change of venue in both cases—assault and battery and intoxication.

Adams, remembering that this is his eighth appearance before Mayor Bebout in two years, decided that he could expect little mercy and asked for a change of judge. Adams' bond was placed at $150 and he went back to jail in default although he hoped to obtain a bondsman before night.

Adams and Regan were a part of a crowd that came in from Connersville Saturday night on the last car. Policeman Price followed Adams and Regan and ran on to them at Fourth and Sexton. They were talking loudly and arguing. It was then that Price started his march to jail.

SIDEBOARDS PUT ON ANANIAS CUSPIDOR

Joe Dickman, court house custodian, has erected sideboards on an ordinary cuspidor at the headquarters of the Ananias club, and hereafter the club members will have no difficulty in locating it from any angle of the room. The sideboard on the cuspidor is made out of galvanized iron and is about fifteen feet in circumference. Dickman states that the club members can now spit to their heart's content. He says there is only drawback to the enlarged cuspidor and that is every time a member hits the spinning wall is sounds like a thunder storm.

Lewis Gowdy Names Correspondent
in Divorce Suit Filed Today

Lewis Gowdy has filed suit for divorce from Dora Gowdy, making sensational charges in the complaint. They reside near Arlington. Mr. Gowdy alleges that his wife was intimate with Samuel Hinton and secretly entertained him at her home. He says this continued for three months before he found it out and then the separation resulted. He alleges cruel and inhuman treatment, stating that she was high tempered and frequently used profane language. According to the complaint, they were married in Decatur county on October 24, 1914 and separated March 15, 1916. C. M. Duncan represents Mr. Gowdy.

MARSHAL SUBDUES VIOLATOR OF BOND

Glenwood Officer Induces Raymond
Nesbit to go into Court After
Exciting Time

WAS PUT UNDER PEACE BOND

Glenwood was the scene of another exciting time Saturday afternoon late, when Marshal Brooks attempted to arrest Raymond Nesbit on charges of provoke and profanity. Details of the affair are meagre and the citizens of the town were not very anxious to discuss the trouble today.

As near as can be determined Nesbit had been placed under a peace bond in Connersville Saturday morning and on his return to Glenwood the officers attempted to serve the warrants on him. He is said to have resisted arrest and made threats against the town marshal. He was finally induced to go before Squire Thompson and was released on bond. The trial of these two cases is set for Thursday morning at ten o'clock. Nesbit was taken to Connersville this morning to answer to a charge of violating his peace bond.

Miss Eulalia Frans of El Paso, Texas, while denying that her marriage to Derby Kiser was to have taken place here last week, admits in a statement today that she is engaged to Mr. Kiser and that they are to be married soon. She says that he is delayed at Marshall, Texas for some unknown reason.

She is still in the city and now claims that she is here to assist Mr. Kiser financially with some business. Her statement follows: "Miss Frans wishes to make known that the story about her and Derby Kiser's marriage to take place here this week is untrue. Miss Frans states that her and Mr. Kiser are engaged to be married soon but the exact day hasn't been set as yet. Miss Frans says she only came here to assist Mr. Kiser financially with some business. Mr. Kiser is delayed at Marshall, Texas, for some unknown reason."

WILL SET FORTH POSITIONN SOON

James E. Watson Will Make Public
Statement in a Few Days Regarding Senatorship

SPENDS SUNDAY AT HIS HOME

Generally Conceded He Will Not
Have Opposition For Short
Term Since Hays Withdrew

Although he has not yet made a public statement setting forth his position in the senatorial race in Indiana, James E. Watson, who spent Sunday at his home here, indicated that he would give out an interview within the next few days explaining his attitude.

Since Will H. Hays has retired from the race for the Republican nomination for the short term, it is not believed that Mr. Watson will have any opposition in the convention. It is now conceded by Republicans all over the state, according to newspapers and press dispatches to Indianapolis newspapers that the best way to settle the senatorial situation was to nominate Harry S. New and James E. Watson, both of whom made such a close race in the primary.

The chief thing of interest politically that developed today was the definite announcement that Governor Ralston had picked Tom Taggart for Senator Shively's place until the election next November. The successful candidate at the polls for the short term will be sworn into office and begin his term immediately after the election. The term for which John W. Kern and Harry S. New will contest will not begin until March 4, 1917.

The Indianapolis Star is authority for the statement that Ralston has picked Taggart for the appointment. This was predicted the next day after Senator Shively died. Whether Taggart will be a candidate for the nomination at the hands of the state convention it not known, but it is freely stated in Democratic circles that Taggart will get the nomination on a platter if he wants it.

It is understood that the Governor tendered the appointment to Mr. Taggart while they were on the train Saturday evening en route to Indianapolis from South Bend, where they had attended the funeral of the late senator.

Mr. Taggart, who was reached by long distance telephone at French Lick last night, declined to discuss the subject, the Star says, considering that a statement in advance of the actual issuance of a commission would be premature, but from friends it was learned that he has said that he will accept the appointment.

TAGGART NAMED FOR SHORT TERM

National Committeeman From Indiana is Selected to Succeed
Shively Until Election

GOVERNOR PRAISES HIM

Taggart Says that he Will Support
President Wilson's Policies in
The Senate

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—Governor Ralston today appointed Thomas Taggart United States senator to fill vacancy caused by the death of Benjamin F. Shively's. The appointment holds until Shively's successor is elected next Nov., and qualifies.

"The commission has been prepared," said Ralston. "It will be presented to Mr. Taggart when he arrives here from French Lick at eleven o'clock."

Senator Taggart will help sustain the president's policy. After he received his commission in his hotel, Mr. Taggart said:

"I shall do my humble best to uphold the president's policies, for I believe in them."

Mr. Taggart said that at this time he will not state whether he will go before the Democratic convention as a candidate for the short term.

"I shall make no statement until I have been sworn in at Washington," he said, Taggart said he might leave for Washington today.

Mr. Taggart has been the recognized leader of Indiana Democracy for years, and he is Indiana's national committeeman.

The appointment of Taggart was expected. What the state is wondering about is whether he will be the Democratic party's nominee at the convention April 26. Many politicians held the belief today that Taggart will announce that he will not go before the convention but that Governor Ralston will be the party choice without opposition.

Governor Ralston today addressed a letter to Taggart in which he said their close personal friendship alone would have been insufficient to cause the appointment. He said Taggart had long served the party at a great personal sacrifice in labor and money without hope of personal preferment or reward and that his services as a public official have been characterized by marked efficiency and strictest integrity.

"While you have been at times severely criticized by some within and some without your party, no responsible man has ever laid the betrayal of a trust against you," stated the letter.

WILL CASE POSTPONED

(By United Press.)
Newcastle, Ind., March 20.—The suit of Ruby Smiley and others to break the will of the late Allen Hinchman her grandfather, which was sent here on a change of venue from Rush county, was postponed today until April 24. No reason for the action was assigned. A number of witnesses were summoned from Rush county and were here ready to testify.

CITED IN COURT

Sheriff Cavitt Saturday took Richard Ralston to Muncie where he was wanted in the divorce proceedings filed by his wife. The court there made an effort to get Ralston into court but was not able to do so until a citation was issued to the sheriff here. Ralston was released and returned here this morning. He is employed on a farm north of the city.

Will Get Number of Mentally Deficient
Children in School

County Superintendent C. M. George has received the blanks for taking the school enumeration. The enumeration starts April 10 and must be completed by April 30. The township trustees take the enumeration in the townships and the school boards in the cities and towns. The state board of education will endeavor to obtain the number of mentally deficient children this year and a blank for this purpose is attached to the school enumeration blanks. They want this data in an effort to see if there are children in the public schools who should not be there.

KERN DELIVERS A EULOGY

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 20.—Democratic and Republican leaders joined today in extending advance greetings to Thomas Taggart of Indiana, due here to take up his new duties as senator next Monday.

"As mayor of Indianapolis—the best that city ever had—and as the holder of other public offices," said Senator Kern, his colleague and Democratic floor leader, "Senator Taggart has shown himself a man of great national executive ability. He started in as a poor boy and is now a wealthy man, but no part of his fortune was made from politics. He and I have been personal friends for many years and our association here certainly will be pleasant."

NO NEW VILLA OUTRAGES

General Pershing Reports Carranza
Garrison in Territory "Friendly
But Passive."

VILLA HUNT TO GO ON.

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 20.—The hunt for Villa will continue "until Villa is taken and his band broken up." That was the official statement of the war office today in response to the query "How long will the search for the brigand be maintained?"

There will be no turning back; no matter what turn events take it was declared.

San Antonio, Texas, March 20.—Like spokes in a great wheel a half dozen American detachments today were operating south and southeast of Casas Grandes combing the entire district for Villa bands. The fact that General Pershing is directing his greatest efforts in a southeasterly direction was announced by General Funston today, apparently indicates that Villa has swung to the south and east since passing through Colonia Gracia and now is near Namiquipa. This is Villa's most familiar territory and evidently confirms the report that he was in the vicinity of Briocora ranch.

At army headquarters it was announced today that Pershing's principal force is well to the south and east of Casas Grandes, broken up into small bodies but all operating from the New Mexican base. General Pershing's dispatch from Casas Grandes does not mention new Villa outrages committed on American colonists in the Casas Grandes district nor has any fighting been reported.

Pershing's dispatches show that he left the main expedition which crossed the border south of Columbus soon after the column was under way. Going west, Pershing joined and assumed command of Colonel Dodd's force which crossed the line near Hachita, N. M.

General Funston stated today he did not know until Friday that Pershing was with the west column. From Casas Grandes, General Pershing reported the Carranza garrison there as "friendly but passive."

"The Mormon colonists in that district," he stated, "looked upon the American troops as a 'rescuing body,' evidently placing slight dependence in the protecting ability of Carranza soldiers."

A marriage license was issued today to Vasco Thrall and Sarah Meal.

The Turning of the Worm

The silk worm has turned. Perhaps he has gone on strike. In any event, it is reported that the supply of raw silk is running short. And the demand is increasing. Merchants with full silk stocks are fortunate. Perhaps that is why they are so eager to tell the fact in the advertising columns of The Daily Republican. And another reason why every woman will want to read the advertising.

"Oh Look!

You'll Pay More For Cravat This Spring Because Of Scarcity Of Dye

Men Thought They Were Superior Beings Because Women Pay So Much to be in Style.

A SILK SHIRT FAMINE, TOO

The chances are, if you are a man, you have been smiling a superior sort of a smile when you look at the pictures of spring fashions for women. You thanked your lucky stars that you did not have to dress yourself up like a sore thumb and look like you were going to a masquerade ball. You sighed a contented sigh and realized that although the women's fashions might come, and go, you knew just exactly where to get the things you had to wear and all so how much they were going to cost you.

But right there you are off. If you don't think so, why just drop into the place where you buy your neckwear, your shirts, your clothes and pretty nearly anything else you put on your back or around your anatomy somewhere, and ask a few questions.

The chances are, if you are a fussy sort of man and particular about your neckwear, that you will have to pay more for a nice looking cravat this spring than you paid for one of the same quality last spring. Why? Because of the dyestuff situation. The European war has stopped importation of dyestuffs to this country. American manufacturers have been staying up late and getting up early in an effort to concoct something on this side of the water that would take the place of the ingredients they formerly used. Some of them have been moderately successful and others have failed. But they all have succeeded in one thing. They have gone to a lot of expense and they are charging more for their goods as a consequence.

Neckwear is advancing right along and there may be further advances later. Rich looking silk cost real money in these times and the consumer will notice this when he comes to buy. The dealer has to pay more for them and he will have to ask more if he stays in business.

The dye stuff situation has affected the hosiery trade. Silk and cotton hose both are included and some of the hosiery companies already have jumped their prices. This affects the black hose as well as those of fancier colors. Speaking of fancy colors reminds one of the fact that numerous eastern manufacturers are trying to revive interest in "loud" socks. Their representatives are pushing colors for all there is in, especially for the spring and summer trade, when men usually wear low cut shoes.

Whether or not the gay young bloods in Rushville will fall for the fancy colors remains to be seen, but they very likely will.

Even the umbrella makers are complaining that they have to pay a good deal more to dye their umbrella coverings and the price has gone up to some extent.

One local haberdasher predicts a silk shirt famine before spring is very well advanced. Silk shirts jumped into such favor last summer that every local dealer had to reorder numerous times before the season was over. One Rushville dealer tried to order an additional consignment the other day, and was informed by the company whose shirts he handles that there was nothing doing. All the orders for silk shirts that can be filled during the coming summer were then in hand.

The dye situation has had its effect on woolens, whether imported or domestic. Local tailors are getting bills with this stamped on the bottom: "Prices subject to change without notice." Even plain black cloth had advanced in the neighborhood of 70 cents on the yard since this time last year. Fancy suitings have made even a bigger advance and there is yet another raise in store for suitings when the woolen company's representatives come around before long to display their fall samples.

HAS A WONDERFUL SCHEME
Dopetown, Ind., March 20.—Prof. Marblenut, Dopetown scientist, has arranged to furnish this city with a perpetual cool breeze and two showers a week, all next summer. The breeze is to be made by agitating the electric fan operated by current generated in a plant on the banks of Little Muddy, at Pigankle Falls. This monster fan will be made of steel. The showess will be made by an apparatus built on, same principle as a Chinese laundryman's face when he takes a mouthful of water and sprays the wash. The water will come from the river and will be filtered, then sprayed over the city from the face of a colossal Chinese figure standing on the left bank of the river above the power house. Prof. Marblenut is the same man who attempted suicide with a bakery doughnut when his wife left him last last year. A friend took the deadly thing from him and saved his life.

CARRANZA TO RESIGN.

(By United Press.)
Mexico City, March 20.—Reports that Carranza will soon resign office in order to become a candidate for the presidency at the coming general election were repeated in Quereto today. Carranza's resignation, it was reported, will be followed by a call for a national convention which will revise the constitution and order an election.

NOT TO LIMIT U-BOATS.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, March 20.—The national liberty party has introduced a bill in the Reichstag directing the chancellor to enter into no agreements with other nations limiting Germany's use of the submarines excepting in the cases of passenger carrying ships. Similar bills were introduced by the Conservative and Center parties.

HIS COACHMAN IS WOUNDED

(By United Press.)

London, March 28.—Premier Radoslaff of Bulgaria, was attacked by a would-be assassin while riding in an open carriage in the streets of Sofia yesterday, according to dispatches from both Rome and Paris this afternoon.

A postal employee named Ivanoff fired two shots at the premier, it was stated. The first bullet went wild. The second wounded the prime minister's coachman. Before Ivanoff could fire again a student sprang upon him and disarmed him. The premier himself escaped unhurt.

Bitter Attack Recalled.

Commenting on the bitter attack which John W. Kern made on Benjamin F. Shively in January, 1900, and the demand of the latter that his party give to him, a fatally sick man, a second nomination as a vindication against that attack, the Ft. Wayne News says: "The party leaders were given the shock of their lives two years ago when he demanded a renomination as a repudiation of the charge of Senator Kern that his first election had been purchased, but rather than refuse him the boon they yielded. He began his second term with the present congress and arose from a bed of illness to take the oath of office, returning to the hospital that same day and not leaving his bed again. He was a comparatively young man and some years ago had served for several terms in the lower house, attaining considerable distinction, too, for he was really a man of parts. As senator, however, he was a complete failure, for his impaired health completely destroyed his efficiency and rendered him a negative character. His latter years, moreover, were clouded and considerably embittered by the aspersions cast upon him by his colleague, and upon the whole his senatorial career was one of sadness and melancholy. As fiercely as he resented Senator Kern's ugly charge, he gave no token to the public save the one impassioned denial and bore himself at all times toward his traducer with a dignity that evoked considerable favorable comment, especially from democratic leaders and politicians. Party expediency demanded a nominal bridging of the chasm between Senators Shively and Kern, but it is well known that Senator Shively never forgave what he regarded as a terrible wrong and that he carried to the end a dislike for Senator Kern that was tantamount to positive aversion."

Making Rain.

The city of San Diego, Cal., is having trouble just now over an agreement made with scientific chap to fore rain from an unwilling sky. Several weeks ago, it appears, when it was pretty dry around San Diego, Charles Hatfield drifted into the city and suggested to the authorities that he'd like to moisten things up a bit. The councilmen laughed incredulously and bade him go and "fill Morena dam." That reservoir had never in its history been more than one-third full. "All right!" replied Hatfield. "I'll do it for $10,000." The councilmen agreed. It was a fine joke. Hatfield disappeared. Later it was learned that he had erected a tower out in the hills near the dam, with galvanized iron tanks and other mysterious apparatus. The city forgot about him. Then it started to rain, and kept right on raining. The downpour became a deluge. There were floods. The dam rose higher and higher. And the councilmen remembered Hatfield and his rain factory. "But it can't be that!" they insisted. Every body around here's been getting rain, and Hatfield's agreement only covered the Morena dam. Some of them, however, were in favor of paying him $5,000 and calling it off before the dam broke. While they hesitated the water kept right on raising, and then Hatfield appeared and demanded his reward. He couldn't really prove that he had filled that dam himself; but on the other hand, the city couldn't prove that he didn't. And the city attorney has declared that the city must pay the money. It's a risky business monkeying with Mother Nature's processes.

For Deserted Husbands.

Oakmont, a Pittsburgh suburb, has a "Husbands' Welfare Association." It is a new club intended to provide solace and comfort for deserted husbands while their wives are "resting" at Palm Beach or when they have "gone to the country" for the summer. The members seem perfectly sincere about it. They say they've simply "banded together for mutual protection." Their organization, however, is supposed to be subrosa, and the list of officers is secret. There is no club house. The club is expected to meet at the homes of the various members at such times as the mistresses of those homes are away resting or frivolling. Judging from the enthusiasm with which husbands are applying for membership, it's a pretty safe bet that fewer Oakmont matrons will be impelled by their usual desire to go to the country next summer.

We may not be doing any of the fighting, but we are doing a deal of splitting across the pond at the other fellows.

Love is a mighty good thing in the home, but corn beef and cabbage gets there just the same.

Our long whiskered Uncle is some busy these days performing the international wiggles.

A "good fellow" doesn't need to tell it as he goes along.

Preparedness will be great—when we are prepared.

When you hesitate you lose. Keep right on moving.

Current Comments

The 1916 Political Drift

(Anderson Herald)

When John C. Williams, at one time editor of D. J. Crittenger's Democratic paper, walked into a voting place Tuesday and called for a Republican ballot, the Democratic members of the board witnessed one reason why the Republican vote was climbing.

When Glen W. Gates, the well-known merchant and for years a Democrat, walked into another polling place and called for a Republican ballot the members of the board witnessed another reason for the large Republican vote.

Down in Stoney Creek and Greene townships Charles Poindexter, for years a Democrat, was a candidate for Republican delegate to the Indianapolis convention, and here was another evidence of Democracy slipping.

These are but three instances but they were types. That sort of thing was going on all over the country, and we presume may have been going on all over the state.

Every little primary, it would seem, has a movement all its own, and this movement marked Tuesday's primary.

It was a protest, many say, against our National administration—its economic and international policies. Quite so.

It was even more than this. It was a protest against Democratic ring rule in Indiana that has heaped expenses on expenses and made the burdens of taxation in the state and in the Democratic counties of the state almost unbearable.

All this will show up in November, and as a result some distinguished Democratic gentlemen will be out of jobs.

Want no Personal Issue

(Indianapolis Star)

It would be unfortunate if the political issues in November should be clouded with any division in either party of a personal nature, so as to obscure the real questions that voters must decide.

This is the peril involved in the succession to Senator Shively. On the Republican side, at least, the fight seems to menace not only party effectiveness, but the decisiveness of the verdict in November.

The right way to look at this question is to divest the mind wholly of the animosities on each side and recognize the plain facts of the situation. Otherwise the rent between the New and the Watson supporters may be widened and deepened, instead of composed.

Mr. Watson made what is generally felt to be a vigorous and almost single-handed fight for the nomination for Senator Kern's place. He failed of a plurality, however, and apparently he stood to see his strength in the state convention steadily disintegrate.

There is no escape from the fact that Mr. Watson's candidacy was directed specifically toward the long term; and yet there is nothing to prevent or rule out his now being a candidate for the short term suddenly put in the hands of all the state conventions by Senator Shively's death.

There is no just cause for resentment against Mr. Watson's entrance into this contest, precisely as there would be no just basis for Mr. Watson or his friends to object to entrance into the race by Mr. Hays or Judge Myers or any one else. It is a new deal for a new prize.

Much depends in this matter upon the spirit shown on all hands as to whether this controversy is to degenerate into so bitter a fight as to imperil Republican success, and to prevent a fair test of the issues at stake before the voters in November. Men who place patriotism above personal animosities should beware of being drawn into the vindictive mood by extreme partisans of the opposing camps.

People's Column

New York City, New York.
To the Daily Republican.

I wish to give to my friends and fellow citizens my second week's stay in the big town. The city of New York is the most marvelous exemplification of those traits of the American people which has made the United States of today. Interest in New York does not lie in the mere magnitude of the city but is founded on enterprise. The bold conception and amazing achievement which might well challenge the pen of him who would celebrate the American at the beginning of the Twentieth Century. In describing New York none other than the superlatives will suffice. It is in area the largest city in the world and in population is exceeded only by one. The boroughs are linked together with the greatest suspension bridges and pierced throughout their lengths and breadth by the most extensive subway systems.

Broadway, extending from the Battery north to Yonkers is the longest street in the world. The system of parks is the largest and costliest in extent and in the sums devoted to maintain them unapproached in America or Europe. The gigantic office buildings of the business district are awing. They are the modern wonders of the world. There are none to compare with them.

Their foundations are sunk deeper down the center of the earth. Their summits are uplifted higher towards the heavens. The largest steamships afloat make New York their port and from the deck of the incoming ship the world-traveler beholds the towering bulk of Manhattan with amazement. The superb mansions of upper Fifth avenue and Riverside Drive are among the most luxurious of the dwellings of man as those streets are the grandest of residential avenues.

The city's hotels and apartment houses are peerless in size and appointments; and each year witnesses their development. Story after story, luxury to luxury, magnificence to magnificence the building operations characteristic of the day are judicious in these magnitude and engineering problems they involve. Municipal enterprise are unrivaled and in scope and cost—the Catskill Mountains water system under construction at a cost of $175,000,000 and the new subway railroad system involving an expenditure of $300,000,000 are likely to hold the record for generations to come and then to be exceeded only by some new and more daring project, conceived here and on Manhattan Island.

The statistics which express the activities of the metropolis are in figures which are incomprehensible. The postoffice handles an average of 10,000,000 pieces of mail matter every twenty-four hours and the city contributes $12,000,000 annually to postal revenues. The surface cars carry 452,000,000 passengers in a year. On the floor of the New York stock exchange more than 3,000,000 shares of stock change hands in a single day. The banks of New York lead the world in volume of clearings. New York is the financial center of the world.

Great and surpassing as the city is, each year adds to its material greatness and commanding influence. In the following I will describe some of the more conspicuous features of the gaining and expanding New York of the present: The Metropolis of America from which it is emerging, that city of the future which will be the metropolis of the world. When I approached New York by river or bay I saw in the view of the high buildings of Manhattan Island a picture which has no parallel in the cities of the world. My first impression of the height and magnitude of these architectural marvels is strengthened as I wander through the down town streets and to another make my way between passing from one shadowy canon in tremendous cliffs. The skyscrapers of New York constitute one of the most impressive and interesting features of the city. I wish I could tell you how I feel about it but I can not it is so great. I have just been on the west side of New York and when I see more of it I will write. Best wishes to all.

CHAMPION RED SOX START WORK

Carrigan's Crew Out to Repeat
This Year—Not Much Chance
For Recruits to Break In

LAST TO BEGIN TRAINING

With Infield And Outfield The Same
The Rookies Will Find The
Going Pretty Hard

Hot Springs, Ark., March 20.—Last of the major league clubs to start spring training, the Boston Red Sox get together here today. They limbered up a bit yesterday, but got down to real cases today.

One short month only remains between them and the reveille of the ump's call, yet Boss Bill Carrigan feels confident that his Champs will be in top-notch form when the season starts.

For that longest of weeks, the first of a retaining season, the battery men have been toiling under the brooding sun and when the new arrivals get down to serious bating practice today, they will have to face curves with mid-season breaks.

From all corners of the U. S. A., the Champions of the World gathered together for the start of the 1916 season, with the watch-word: "Repeat!" From every corner of the field or hotel, whether by player or onlooker, the subject of conversation was conjecture as to the repetition of a certain performance.

The only sad faces were those of the recruits, for where the rookies are going to break into the playing line-up of the Clan Carrigan this year, it is hard to see. With Hobby and Gainer both full of pep and fighting for the regular berth on the first station; Jack Barry, who arrived in mid-summer shape from his practice at Holy Cross, holding down the key-stone sack; Larry Gardner on the hot corner and Scott and Janvrin cutting up in the short field, to say nothing of the fence-busting-and-protecting corporation of Spoke, Duffy and Harry, it is difficult to say where in the regular line-up the nump will announce in about a month, a rookies, no matter how ambitious, is going to fit.

The answer may be found in some unforeseen stroke, an accident to a regular or the development of a real phenom among the recruits, but present indications are that this will not transpire. Among the battery men the chief objects of interest are (1) Sam Agnew, whose pep and cheery good-nature and iron whip are already hailed with joy by his new mates. (2) The work of the three heroes of last Fall's conquest of the Phillies, Foster, Leonard and Shore; each out to have his best season, and each pitching like a house-a-fire and (3) The generally deadly appearance of the rest of Carrigan's fingers, each claiming he is ready to step in and pitch a full game against a team of Cobbs and Kauffs.

The work of Shorten, newest addition to the outer-garden, will be watched with much interest by all concerned these next few days, as with the passing of Olaf Henderson, an accident to one of the Big-Three—who-live-near-the-fence would leave a jagged hole, should the latest acquisition not come up to expectations.

MINISTER LOUDLY PRAISES TANLAC

The Rev. E. T. Miles, of West Terre Haute, Relieved by Master Medicine.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 20.—A minister of the gospel had added his words of praise to that of thousands of other Indiana people who have been benefited by Tanlac, the Master Medicine. He is the Rev. E. T. Miles, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, West Terre Haute, Ind. He said:

"Tanlac appealed to me because I knew of the good it was doing others: I suffered from indigestion and catarrhal affection. I also had a slight kidney trouble. Shortness of breath annoyed me considerably and, at times, I was so nervous I could not rest at night.

"I sleep fine, now, since taking Tanlac, and feel stronger and am better in every way. The stomach trouble has been relieved and my stomach has been very much benefited. Tanlac has given me great relief and I am glad to recommend it to my friends."

The words of praise and commendation of such prominent men as the Rev. Mr. Miles, men who stand for righteousness, honesty, and integrity, in their community, should prove the merits of Tanlac. Tanlac is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney troubles and is a tonic, invigorant appetizer and blood purifier.

Tanlac is sold exclusively in Rushville, at F. E. WOLCOTT'S drug store.

THEY'RE CALLING HIM "SIMPLICITY JIM" NOW

Saturday was a Red Letter day for Oneal Brothers, for the sales and crowds of that day exceeded those of any previous day in the history of the establishment. It is estimated that between ten and fifteen hundred people attended their spring opening in the afternoon alone. Ample entertainment had been provided for the visitors. One of the exhibitions was that of the "Simplicity" incubator which is being sold for this firm by James Tarplee. Because Mr. Tarplee has the distinction of selling more Simplicity Incubators retail than any other man in Indiana, the firm which makes them has named him "Simplicity Jim," and has sent out folders bearing his picture and the secret of his success. Although the season has barely opened he has already sold over ninety incubators, twenty of them being sold on Saturday at the opening. Mr. Tarplee and the Oneal establishment are both highly complimented in the advertising folder which is being sent broadcast over the state.

DYE SHORTAGE SEEN.

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 20.—A shortage of aniline dyes here today threatened to cause mere man to rival the opposite sex in a display of gaudy headgear. Hats, depicting all colors of the rainbow, were on sale while the old stiff black chapeau was being worn as a sort of luxury. The tendency of conservative men to "hang crepe on their brains" is being curbed because of the failure of American chemists to meet the demands for dyes from all branches of the apparel industry. "Hatmakers are among those most seriously affected by the dye shortage," said J. Harris of St. Louis, hat manufacturer. "The darker the hat the more dye demanded."

Amusements

The Princess offers the feature picture, "Rags," for the program tonight. Mary Pickford, the unrivalled favorite of the screen is featured. In the role of the little half-breed girl who renounces happiness, opportunity and even safety for the man she loves, Mary Pickford is superb. Although the nature of this characterization is new to Miss Pickford she suggests the semi-Indian maid with such force and naturalness as to be utterly astonishing in her effectiveness. It is an original story woven about the star and it provides her with plenty of opportunities. The Indian maid is in love with a white man and the story is really based on this. Tomorrow the three act drama "Pieces of the Game," will be shown. The management of the Princess announced today that "The Battle Cry of Peace" has been booked for March 30.

The Mystic will show the regular program of pictures tonight and in addition the vaudeville feature, "Lore, the Girl of Mystery." "Lore" is said to be a mystic of extraordinary ability and is sure to prove a novel attraction. The picture program is a four act feature "The Ploughshare." Tomorrow Lore will again furnish the vaudeville feature with a change of pictures.

The Gem offers a three reel feature "The Blood of Our Brothers," for the program tonight. Crane Wilbur is featured. It is said to be an intensely interesting drama and is taken from life. Tomorrow matinee and night the second installment of "The Girl and the Game" will be shown. This is the Helen Holmes serial.

GOLDEN RULE IS STILL IN VOGUE

For Name of God to be Hallowed is Blessing For Individual And Society, M. E. Pastor Says

REVIVAL SERVICES CONTINUE

Good crowds were in attendance at all the meetings of the St. Paul's M. E. church which were held in connection with the revival meetings yesterday. Announcements for the coming week were that the services would continue in the evening at 7:30; services will also be held each afternoon except Monday and Saturday at 2:30; the children between the ages of 11 and 15 will rehearse for the junior choir on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock; and those under eleven will practice on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Special music was furnished by the chorus choir at the morning and evening services. The Rev. W. M. Whitsitt preached in the morning on a phrase in the Lord's prayer, "Hallowed be thy name." It was the second in a series of sermons on this subject. He showed that for the name of God to be hallowed was a blessing for the individual, for society, for a nation and for the world; that his name should be hallowed here on earth, for no man is fitted to die if he is not fitted to live. "The Golden Rule is still in vogue," he said.

The revival was extended to the Epworth League service when Clarence E. Lane led the meeting and special music was furnished by Miss Norma Smith.

The Loyal Daughters will meet with Estella Fletcher Wednesday evening. All members are urged to be present.

A merry party composed of Miss Jess Anderson, Miss Helen Seidler, Carl Morganhalder, of Indianapolis and Robert Anderson, dined at the Seaman House last evening.

Miss Beatrice Austen entertained informally Sunday evening. Miss Marjorie Hunt, Chase Jarrett and Horace Kehl. A delightful luncheon was served to the genial company of guests.

AID SOCIETY

The Aid society of the Ben Davis Creek church will meet with Mrs. Will Hinchman on Thursday afternoon, March 23rd. Every member is urged to be present and enjoy the social affair of sewing and quilting.

The congregation of the United Presbyterian church will hold a public reception Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the church for the new pastor of the church, the Rev. John T. Aiken, and his wife, who came here recently from Wilkesburg, Pa. Everyone is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck entertained a number of their friends on Wednesday evening at an old-time taffy pull. The affair was as much fun as the name suggests and all the guests joined in the merriment by pulling taffy. Games too, were played and aided in the informality of the pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Capp entertained with a week-end houseparty at their pretty country home south of the city. One of the features of the affair was the dinner party yesterday noon. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Young and son, Donald, and Dr. and Mrs. Carl F. Beher and son, William.

ELITE CLUB

Mrs. O. M. Dale entertained the members of the Elite Club at her home in North Main street this afternoon when the congenial group of ladies spent a happy afternoon over the card tables. The affair was a very informal one and all the more pleasant for being so.

INFORMAL PARTY

Miss Mary Ellen Carrol entertained several of her friends informally last evening at her home in West First street. Music and conversation made the evening an enjoyable one and dainty refreshments were served as the evening drew near a close. Those enjoying the hospitality of Miss Carrol were the Misses Marie McKee, Hilda McKee, Georgia Lehman, of Marion, Margaret Kelly, and Helen Carrol and Louis Manzy, Perry Oneal, Earl Osborne, Will Fitzgerald, John Schrichte, and John Kennedy.

VISIT I. U. FRIENDS

Several young people from here were guests over the week end of friends in Bloomington who are students in Indiana university, all returning home last evening. Harold Wolcott was the guests of his sister, Miss Marguerite Wolcott, and Bruce Carr visited his sister, Miss Mary Jane Carr. The Misses Gladys Wallace, Edith Wilk and Dorothy Thomas, the last named a student at De Pauw, were guests of friends at the Kappa Alpha Theta house and all attended the Theta dance and other social functions.

DINNER PARTY

Thursday, being the twelfth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sonder of Carthage, their home was the scene of a great deal of merriment in the evening when several invited guests were entertained at dinner. Decorations of St. Patrick's day were used through the prettily decorated rooms. Green and white ribbons were suspended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, which was lit with green and white candles. The color scheme was also carried out in the delicate luncheon which was served. The hostess was assisted in the hospitalities by the Misses Vanche Palmer, Doris Beher and Stella Rhodes. Those enjoying this pleasant affair were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leisure, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Dalrymple, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Beher, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Stevens, Estill Fannin and Clement Poston.

BOOK PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hinchman entertained a number of their friends at a Book party on Saturday evening at their pretty country home. Games and contests of a different nature made the evening, which was interspersed with music, a lively and delightful one for the guests. A tempting repast was served near the close of the pleasant affair. Mr. Bowles and Mr. Hinchman were the musicians for the affair, furnishing pretty music throughout the evening. In this merry party were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jarrett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lige Billings, Mr. and Mrs. George Austen and daughter Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hinchman, Miss Zola Bird, Omer Bowles and Lawrence Hamon.

Miss Erema Wilk had as guests yesterday Miss Helene Whitesides of Franklin, Miller Hamilton and Don Miller of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Reynolds were the delightful entertainers Sunday, when they had Mr. and Mrs. John Lindale and Miss Ameta Macy, for 6 o'clock dinner.

Mrs. Wooten and children, James and Mary Ellen, of Cincinnati who have been the guests of Mrs. James Fisher of Glenwood for the past few days, will leave for their home in a few days.

SUPPER PARTY

Miss Ione Piper entertained a few of her friends informally yesterday evening at supper. A delicious supper was served at the prettily decorated table to the guests who included Miss Ruth Laughlin, Van Lewark and Fred Radcliffe.

ENTERTAINS LEAGUE

Mrs. William Combs of Glenwood entertained about sixty members of the Glenwood League at her home Friday evening. Games of all kinds amused the young people during the course of the pleasant affair. Shamrocks had been generously used in decorating the rooms which presented a festive air for the holiday. Light refreshments were served by the hostess to the merry company.

MEAL-THRALL

Miss Sarah Meal, daughter of James T. Meal, and Vasco Thrall, son of James Thrall, were married Saturday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt. The young people are both from this county. Mr. Thrall, however, at present is employed in Indianapolis, where he and his bride will make their future home.

The Misses Josephine and Marie Kelly entertained a company of their friends at dinner last evening. The prettily appointed dinner was made especially tempting in the dainty surroundings which had been provided. A fragrant bouquet of sweet peas embellished the center of the table which was lit only by the soft glow from the green candles. A pleasant social evening followed the elaborate course dinner.

WITH MR. AND MRS. STEVENS

A delightful party was given by Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Stevens at their beautiful country residence Friday evening. Green and white was the color suggestion in the dining room, where a dainty collation was served and the guests received favors of miniature pipes and shamrocks. The hostess had exercised her proverbial art for clever entertaining in the games and contests with which she amused her guests. They were Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Souder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leisure, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Dalrymple, Miss Doris Beher and Miss Vanche Palmer.

SURPRISE PARTY

In honor of the birthday of her husband, Mrs. W. T. Smith entertained a number of friends Saturday evening at their pretty home west of Glenwood. The affair had been cleverly arranged without the knowledge of the guest of honor. Music and dancing were the chief diversions during the gay affair which was closed with the service of a delicious luncheon. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander, of Rushville, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Myers and daughter, Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Leonard and family, the Misses Mary Laughlin, Oletha Duke, Lona Chaney, Mary Gray, Maggie Laughlin, of Milroy, Ray and Harry Richardson, Charles and Dempsey Chaney, Vincent Gray, Lewis Gehring, Charles Mingle and Mr. and Mrs. Balch Morgan of Glenwood.

A Great National Public Utility

That concerns all merchants and all people

THE original Cash Register rang a bell, indicated and recorded the amount of the purchase. It benefited the merchant only.

In a third of a century this old model has developed into a Cash Register that directly benefits every man, woman and child who spends money in a store.

This new Cash Register equally concerns every merchant and clerk, every banker and wholesaler in this land.

It furnishes every customer with a receipt or sales slip.

It prints on this the amount paid or charged.

On this is also printed the date of the sale and who made it.

It forces a duplicate, printed record for the merchant.

It prevents disputes over charges and bills paid.

It saves shoppers' time.

It gives the merchant all his profits. It gives him more money for his family.

It promotes more and quicker sales.

It protects each clerk against making errors and against the mistakes of others.

It rewards the diligent clerk by telling his employer which one makes the largest number of sales and which one gets the greatest amount of business.

It assures the banker additional security for the money he loans the merchant.

It gives the wholesaler additional assurance that the merchant will have money to pay his bills.

It furnishes the banker and the wholesaler mechanical evidence that the merchant's statement of his business is correct.

It is a business necessity.

MERCHANTS!!

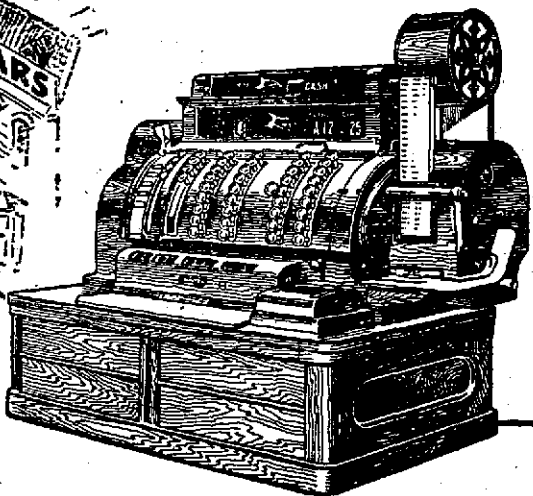

We have new 1916 models that give this perfect service.

Write us today or see our agent in your city and learn how you can secure one of these public service machines.

Liberal allowances are made for old National Cash Registers that were good in their day, but do not so completely protect you or give the valuable service our 1916 Models do.

Moran Will Have to go Some if he Ever Plants a Blow on Willard's Jaws.

ODDS ARE NOW AGAINST HIM

Will Enter Ring Weighing About Sixty Pounds More Than Challenger

(By United Press.)

New York, March 20.—Towering five inches above his huge adversary and possessing a reach five and one-half inches longer, Jess Willard has two of the great defensive works known to boxing thrown up around his precious jaw-bone. If Frank Moran, a comparative mid-get, is to hang flowers and ivy on Willard's nether maxillary he will have to fairly leap in the air.

Six feet seven inches is the altitude of Big Jess. Moran's red thatch stands a mere six feet one inch above the calloused soles of his battleship feet. And before he gets near enough to start aviating toward Willard's classic features the boy from Pittsburgh must wade through a mass of arms 83½ inches long. He works under a handicap right there, for his own arms are only 78 inches long, a right respectable pair of flails in ordinary circles but puny outworks in Willard's gigantic company. One of Moran's favorite modes of battle bespeaks the craft of the former globe trotter. His watchers have found that Moran likes to work his man into a crouching attitude, draw down his arms with a poke at the body and then swing over the old right-hand wallop to the jaw.

The odds are that he can't do that with Willard. Big Jess fought a safe battle against Jack Johnson, standing almost upright throughout with his arms extended far in front of him in excellent blocking formation. He refused to crouch and take a chance on meeting up with marauding haymakers brought up from the floor. His personal disposition, too, may stand Willard in good stead in the seventy-thou-and-dollar skit, for he is not a belligerent type, preferring to let the other fellow ram his face against the outstretched Willard mitts.

Moran's two knockouts over Jim Coffey demonstrated his punching ability more decisively than any of his other performances. True, there are those who suspect the tint of the Corkonian's vertebrae but none who saw the jolts go home had had any lingering doubts of the drive that impelled them. In the second fight Moran swept over his right with the force of a mule's hind tootsie. Right away the bells began to tinkle in Coffey's steeple and he remained away picking daisies for a considerable period of time. Those who know fighting and fighters recall the fate of little Tommy Burns, perhaps the hoariest bit of frost that ever clung to the championship landscape.

He went against Jack Johnson under a similar handicap and like Fainting Bertha, never had a chance. Burns was 5 feet seven inches tall and Johnson's height was six feet, one-fourth of an inch. Despite the difference in height, Burns had it on the gloomy exile in reach. His arms were 74½ inches long and Johnson's only 73. Johnson weighed 220 and Burns 179 in that fight, but Moran has proved that weights don't amount to much when fighters get above the 175-pound mark. As Willard weighs about 57 pounds more than Moran, perhaps it is just as well for the challenger to stick to his contention.

MANY TEACHERS WILL ATTEND

State-Wide Vocational Conference
Promises to Bring Together
Many Educators.

PROGRAM ABOUT COMPLETED

Industrial Survey Already Under Way Will Furnish Interesting
Topic For This Branch.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 20.—Plans for the state-wide conference on vocational education March 23-25 indicate that it will bring such a galaxy of vocational education talent to Indiana as has not been seen at any other single conference. Vocational experts of wide experience will be on the program and the whole field is designed to bring together the educators and other persons interested in vocational education for the purpose of discussing the present status in Indiana and methods of meeting the present problems.

The action which has been taken to make an industrial survey of the state for the purpose of guiding vocational education makes this meeting one of unusual interest to Indiana school men. The work of the survey is already under way at Evansville with Charles H. Winslow, the vocational expert, in charge.

The meeting of the conference will open Thursday evening March 23, with address by President W. E. Stone of Purdue University, and Dr. Charles A. Prosser, director of the Dunwoody Institute of Minneapolis. The former will speak on "The Status of Vocational Education in Indiana," and the latter on "The Minneapolis Survey." Friday evening the subject of the discussion will be the "Indiana Vocational Survey." The speakers will be Charles H. Winslow, director of vocational research for the state board of education, and R. J. Leonard, director of vocational education of Indiana University, who is in charge of the Richmond Survey now in progress.

Saturday morning Professor Walter Sargent, director of art education, University of Chicago, will speak on "Art in Education," and L. S. Hawkins, state director of agricultural education in New York, will speak on "The Value of Agricultural Education." The general session will be closed Saturday afternoon with addresses by Charles R. Richards, director of Cooper Institute of New York, and Congressman S. D. Fess, of Ohio, president of Antioch college, and member of the National Commission of Vocational Education.

Round table discussions on part time and evening schools in industrial, agricultural, domestic science and the training of teachers in the different subjects will be conducted. Miss Elizabeth Rowe of the University of Minnesota and a leader in the field of domestic science education will take an active part in these programs. Members of the board of education and other persons including Frank Duffy, general secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Pettis Reid of Richmond, President W. W. Parsons of Indiana State Normal, President W. L. Bryan of Indiana University, Superintendents B. F. Moore of Muncie, and C. M. McDaniels of Hammond, County Superintendent Samuel L. Scott of Jeffersonville, President W. A. Millis of Hanover college, J. G. Collicott and John A. Lapp of Indianapolis will also take part in the program. It is expected that several hundred school men of the state will be present at this conference.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

ICE MEN WANT BETTER RATING

Indiana Association Will Make Effort to Have Profession Looked Upon Better by Public.

BUSINESS IS HAZARDOUS

Declare Consumers Are Not as Appreciative of Their Efforts as They Should be.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—The Indiana Ice Dealers' association convention here next Wednesday and Thursday will take steps to establish the ice merchant in better standing with the public. Just what form the effort will take has not of course been determined. All that has been determined is that some step will be taken.

The organization feels that the composite known as the consumer has not been as appreciative of the effort of the ice makers as ice dealer deserves. From the viewpoint of the ice dealer the feeling of the public is unjust and unfair and the effort will be to bring the public around to an attitude of appreciation instead of criticism.

"To turn water into ice and sell it looks as easy as turning paper into money by processes known to the United States mint," said President Herbert B. DePrez of the association. "But it isn't. That's why so many icemen fail. The death statistics for the ice business are below what is normal for the general business world. In other words more men in the ice business fail in proportion to the starts made than fail in the aggregate of all businesses. The clothing business, for instance, is safer. Start twenty ice dealers in business today and in twenty years from now there will be but one alive, and prosperous. That is what I mean by the mortality record for the ice business."

"The reason is that the business is hazardous. The profits are small compared with the cost of production, delivery and collection. The public has not been appreciative of these things, and has been inclined to condemn ice men for high prices when prices were in reality too low for any but the most efficient and careful dealer."

P. J. LYNCH WILL SPEAK IN THE EAST

Retiring District Chairman Will Campaign in Interest of Fairbanks Candidacy

WILL GO TO OKLAHOMA SOON

Richmond, Ind., March 20.—Campaigning for Charles Warren Fairbanks, the Indiana entry into the G. O. P. free-for-all for the presidential nomination, will be the occupation of P. J. Lynch of New-castle for the next few months. Mr. Lynch has accepted a contract with the Republican national committee to tour the east next fall in the national campaign and he also has negotiations with the Indiana state committee for campaign speeches in five counties in the western part of the state.

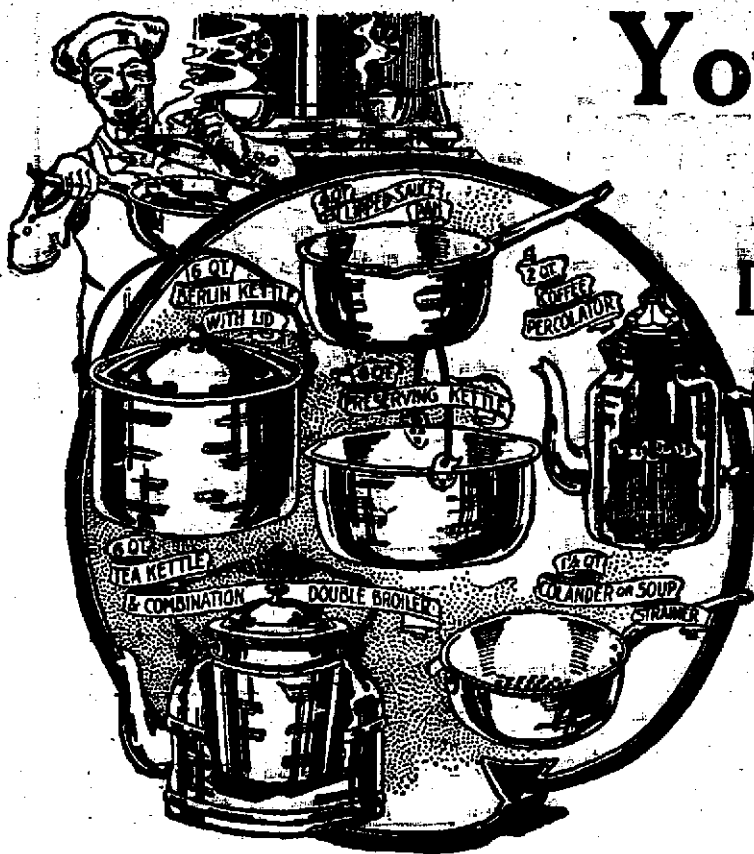

Within the next few months Mr. Lynch will go to Oklahoma in the interests of Mr. Fairbanks and expects to pass several weeks there touring the state and making speeches advocating the nomination of Mr. Fairbanks. After the Chicago convention he expects to devote most of his time to work for the national committee.

OH YES, WAR HAS AFFECTED THE NEWSPAPER BUSINESS AS OTHERS

One could scarcely be blamed for jumping at conclusions and saying, "Some distracted housewife has lost her shopping list," upon finding on the sidewalk a scrap of paper on which was scribbled, "blankets, felt, glycerine, rubber blankets, paper and ink, muslin." Nevertheless the finder might be altogether wrong—perhaps the shopping list belonged to the boss buyer for the mechanical department of a newspaper.

Most newspaper readers may wonder what blankets, muslin, felt, rubber sheets and other items that are handy things to have about the house have to do with the mechanical department of a newspaper, but just at this time the buyer who dropped his shopping list has more serious things to wonder about. As the cost of the articles listed and other items too many to mention continue to climb day by day he is devoting what little time he has for subjective exercises to wondering when the boosting of newspaper expenses is going to stop.

Ever since the momentous August of 1914—especially during the past six months—the skyrocketing of the prices of necessities around a newspaper plant has gone on with a beauty of consistency which arouses absolutely no enthusiasm among publishers throughout the country who have to foot the bills. Products essential to the publication of newspapers have jumped in price all the way from 10 or 15 to 3,000 and more per cent.

War, directly or indirectly, is given as the reason for the enormous increase in the publisher's bills. And as war seems likely to continue for some time, so too the market sky-rocketing promises to go to heights even beyond the present astonishing prices. Nowadays it is next to impossible to obtain market quotations for even so short a time ahead as "next week."

It should be remembered also that concrete instances of the high cost of publishing given here are the lowest prices obtainable, because the publisher buys in large bulk. He cannot cut in quantity—in fact, war and rumors of more war mean the printing of papers far in excess of the output of normal times, which is one, merely one, item of war time increase in expenses that the thoughtless and uninformed overlook when uttering the fallacy so often heard, "the newspapers want war." And the publisher does not cut in quantity of material.

Before the war, to begin with, the important item of tons of metal used by the linotyping departments in a daily newspaper plant, the metal which is a composition of lead, tin and antimony, cost 8½ cents a pound. A week ago it cost 12½ cents during the forenoon. In the afternoon the cost was 13 cents. A few days later last week it was boosted to 14 cents.

in cost alone amounting to hundreds of dollars a year.

The various editions of newspapers cannot, to use a shop expression, be "put to bed," without blankets any more than humans can. And the newspaper presses must have the blankets in summer as well as winter.

Press rollers, which are made largely of glue, glycerine and molasses, have gone up, so manufacturers notified the consumers last week, 18 per cent. Glycerine—and the quality used in newspaper plants is not the pure white glycerine one buys in drug stores, but a quality less refined—has taken one flying leap from an ante-bellum price of 19 cents a pound to 54 cents.

The common black inks are affected because the rubber manufacturers are corraling as much of the carbon as they can and using it in place of zinc and lead, a detail which will account for the preponderance of rubber goods having a black cast, which shoppers soon will find on market in place of the white rubber they've been accustomed to see in the shops.

Type foundries have increased prices 20 per cent, and no let up in the boosting in sight. Gum arabic, necessary in the making of matrices in printing plants, has jumped 100 per cent and wrapping paper, used in the circulation department, costs twice as much as it did before the war, with wrapping rope of sisal from Yucatan and jute wrapping ropes and twines from Calcutta now selling at an increase almost as great.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY.

Dallas, Tex., March 20.—Otto H. Lang, street commissioner, when asked by a young man in his department for a raise, told him he didn't deserve a raise because he had not done any work at all during the year. Lang proved his assertion like this:—Each year has 365 days. You sleep eight hours each day, which equals 122 days. This leaves 243 days. You rest eight hours each day, which equals 122 days. This leaves 121 days. There are fifty-two Sundays that you do not work or 52 days. This leaves 69 days. You have one and a half hours This leaves 15 days. You get each day for lunch, or 28 days. Two weeks' vacation each year or 14 days. This leaves 1 day, and this being the Fourth of July we close on that day, so you've done no work at all.

WHICH IS BETTER?

A Shoe at a Price or a Shoe of Quality? What does it matter if you pay a few cents per pair more for shoes, and get three months more service on that shoe?

We hear a great deal nowadays about shoes at a price. Any shoe store can sell shoes at a price. That is no trick. It is shoes of quality that stand out so prominent in the long run. Shoes that will give the wearer such satisfaction that they will come back for another pair.

The New Spring Shoes are coming in—Try us for a pair of the long wearing kind.

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—You have a bad taste in your mouth—A heavy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substance for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

SAYS INDIANA WILL BENEFIT

Conference on Charities and Correction Expected to Aid Health Movement in State.

DR. SMITH GIVES HIS VIEWS

One of the Divisions Will be For General Subject of "Health" it is Announced.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—"Every move for public health has for its aim and legitimate outcome, the prevention of all disease, including insanity," said Dr. S. E. Smith, medical superintendent of the Eastern Indiana Hospital for the insane. "The presence of the National Conference and Charities and Correction in Indiana this year will help along that great cause. I expect to see Indiana benefit directly and indirectly and the great body of her citizens more appreciative of the human uplift movement for which the Conference stands."

One of the divisions of the Conference is on the general subject, "Health," and under this division the subject of "Ill Health in Its Bearing on Insanity," will be discussed. Dr. Smith is impressed with the importance of the discussion of this subject under the general heading, "Health."

"The term insanity does not stand for a well defined condition," he said. "Mental disease is a better expression and is slowly displacing the former in medical discussion as indicating a disordered mind from any cause. Diseases of the mind are many and vary as do other diseases in their symptoms and manifestations. Ninety-five per cent. of the mental disease are the result of other diseases which directly or indirectly invade the brain and other parts of the nervous system and disorder the brain's functions. It is admitted that the mind may be disordered without physical disease as the basis, but such cases are rare and exceptions to the rule."

CHICAGO CABBY BURNS CARRIAGES

Unable to Stand Taxicab Competition And Owner Applies The Torch—Failed to Sell Outfit.

ORIGINALLY COST $25,000

(By United Press.) Chicago, March 20.—Discouraged by taxicab competition and unable to sell his old fashioned cabs and carriages even for a song, Abel Deming poured kerosene upon them and burned them up. Deming has been rich and poor several times since he came here during the World's Fair. In 1893 Deming was flat broke except for his horse. He sold it, came to Chicago and, working at odd jobs, saved his money and bought a horse and cab. The horse and cab became a lively stable and then fortune smiled and coins jingled merrily into his pockets.

Then the race course lured him and Deming rubbed elbows with John Drake. Then the bubble burst when the fair was over and the race course saw Deming no more. A few years passed and Deming still carried passengers through the streets of Chicago until one day a snorting automobile whizzed past his cab. At the age of 71, Deming is left with but a meager part of the money he once had. He tried to sell his carriage, offering to part with an outfit worth $25,000 now, for $5,200 but there were no takers, so Deming drew his carriages from their storage shed, poured a can of gasoline over them and touched a match to the relics of the heyday of the horse.

Smoke FAIR PROMISE: 50 Cigars

MATCH MAKER TO START COLLEGE

Ohio Millionaire Will Turn His Large Farm Into Agricultural Schools Soon.

WILL RIVAL OTHER SCHOOLS

(By United Press.) Barbertain, O., March 20.—Ohio C. Barber, millionaire maker of matches, now 74, plans to make "the best farmers in the world" at "the greatest agricultural school in America." Barber is drawing plans today to convert his famous $3,000,000, 3500 acre farm, Anna Dean, into an agricultural school adjunct of the Western Reserve University, Cleveland. According to Barber his institution will rival M. A. C., Illinois, Wisconsin, or Cornell in agricultural teaching and experimental work.

Barber's farm was named in honor of his first wife, Anna Dean. The farm is now operated with experts in charge of the various departments. It is stocked with 1600 prize cattle and hogs. Barber will start construction of dormitories this year. He will retain control of the institution until his death.

"I expect to live a long time yet," said Barber, who recently married his secretary, aged 38. "I want to live on the farm the rest of my life. I'm a farmer first and last. I hope to have the new college under way within a year."

BRYAN WILL TOUR STATE FOR DRYS

Following Banquet Tonight in Honor of His Birthday he Will Take Stump in Home State.

WAS 59 YEARS OLD YESTERDAY

(By United Press.) Lincoln, Neb., March 20.—The annual Bryan birthday banquet, given each year in honor of the former secretary of state by his friends and admirers, will be held tonight in honor of the former secretary of state by his friends and admirers, will be here tonight and arrangements have been made for the usual large gathering. It was fifty-six years ago yesterday, in Illinois, that Bryan was born, but because the anniversary came this year on Sunday the celebration was postponed until today.

Following the banquet Mr. Bryan will make a tour of Nebraska towns where there are local fights on the liquor question and following this tour he will make a general campaign throughout the state as one of the chief speakers for the non-partisan anti-saloon committee on behalf of the adoption of the proposed prohibition amendment to the Nebraska constitution.

WANTS USE OF ROADS.

(By United Press.) Washington, March 20.—The United States has asked or will ask for permission to ship munitions and supplies to the expeditionary force over Mexico's railway, it was learned on high authority. The request was made through the war department by General Funston.

THEY REFUSE TO EAT

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded, which causes anxiety and worry.

To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.

The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies the very elements children need to build up their strength. They relish Scott's Emulsion because it is free from alcohol.

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession, and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedial Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as practical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer, Mr. A. H. Schrichte. J. B. SCHRICHTER SONS

OHIO SUFFS BEGIN FIGHT

Out For Vengeance For Pigeonholing Congressional Amendment.

(By United Press)
Columbus, O., March 20.—Ohio suffragists, bent on vengeance for the pigeonholing by the congressional judiciary committee of the Susan B. Anthony national suffrage amendment, met here today. Women representing each of Ohio's congressional districts announced the following plans:

To resurrect the Anthony amendment and force a vote in Congress through pressure on every Ohio congressman. To boost membership of the Ohio suffrage organization to 500,000. Suffrage leaders here today claim that when their organization reaches a membership of 500,000 they will submit another amendment for suffrage in Ohio. The organization now numbers about 300,000. Leaders said that if they can get the half-million members needed, an amendment for state suffrage will be submitted next fall, although it was decided in convention recently to wait another year before trying again.

COUNTRY IS YET UNDEVELOPED

Importation of Foreign Capital
Should be Encouraged, it is Advocated by Some.

TO OPEN UP THE RESOURCES

Can Give Assurance Against Destructive Competition With a Protective Tariff

Washington, March, 20.—The Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statements at its Washington headquarters: "Notwithstanding the marvelous development this country has experienced in the relatively short period of our national existence, we are yet an undeveloped country. In every state in the Union there are large tracts of fertile land uncultivated and unused. Almost unlimited water powers are going to waste. In the forest of the Great West the loss of timber through old age and fire is probably as great as the quantity used in the manufacture of lumber. There are vast quantities of raw material available for use in all kinds of manufactures.

"For the purpose of a limited and very ordinary development the capital available in our own country will suffice. If it be desirable, as most people will believe it is, that we should encourage and hasten the development and use of our resources, it is necessary that we should invite and encourage the importation of foreign capital.

"No man can use his money in industrial pursuits in this country without thereby providing employment for American labor. Every additional laborer employed at remunerative wages means increased demand for the products of American farms, fields, mines, and factories, and a rapid increase in the total wealth of the country. It behooves us, therefore, to search out every possible opportunity to induce foreign capital to invest in American enterprise.

"No other class of property flows as easily as money. Men who have capital place it where they see consistent with safety. Men who are the prospect of the largest profit now engaged in manufacturing or in any other productive enterprise in foreign countries will come here to invest their money and to employ labor and to consume raw materials whenever they are satisfied that there is opportunity here for permanent, profitable investment.

"We can give them this assurance by the establishment of a protective tariff which will secure them against destructive competition from abroad and by the careful observance of sound principles in legislation, assuring the investor that his property will be secure against unjust attack. The price of labor is governed by supply and demand. Wages have increased in this country in the past few months, chiefly for two reasons: The increased demand for our products, and the cutting off of immigration. At the same time that we have had an increased demand for labor we have had a relatively decreased supply.

"The enactment of tariff and other laws which would encourage the importation of foreign capital to engage in American industry would create a larger demand for labor in the industries in which the new capital had been invested. It is to the interest of every laboring man, therefore, to support and urge the enactment of laws such as here indicated, with a view to creating new fields of employment and assuring relatively higher and more stable wages."

LONTZ NO LONGER STRICT PARTISAN

Secretary of Company of Which he is President Gives Out Statement as to Attitude

SEEMS THAT HE FEELS SORE

"Dragged" Into Congressional Race
When he Cherished no Political Ambition, it is Said

Richmond, Ind., March 20.—John M. Lontz, who was defeated in his race for the Democratic nomination for representative to congress from the Sixth Indiana district in the primary of March 7, by Representative Finly H. Gray of Connersville, is no longer a strict party man, according to announcement made today by B. T. Hill, secretary of the F. & N. Lawn Mower company, which Mr. Lontz owns.

"I can say for Mr. Lontz," says the announcement of Mr. Hill which was made in the absence of Mr. Lontz, who is in the south, "that from now on he will be politically independent. He is still a believer in the majority of the Democratic principles, but he has no intention to further affiliate with the party organization in Wayne county."

"The result of the primary election," continues Mr. Hill's announcement, "in this country, shows that his services to the party both personal and financial, have been utterly unappreciated.

"Mr. Lontz was literally 'dragged' into the contest for the Democratic congressional nomination. He cherished no political ambition, but was made to believe that his candidacy would save the district for the party and although involving a personal sacrifice, he decided to accede to the demand made upon him.

"While the result of the primary election was somewhat disappointing, this could easily be overlooked were it not for the treachery displayed by the Democrats of Wayne county. The man, who had fought their battles for twenty-five years through personal effort and splendid financial aid was slaughtered at the polls by those who professed to be friends. Such base treachery and ingratitude will long be remembered and resented by his real friends."

Mr. Hill said he did not care to amplify the statement further when he was asked whether Mr. Lontz had withdrawn from the party or whether his decision was not "to affiliate with the party organization in Wayne county," which is the position, that many of his known personal and political friends take. A number of Democrats who were shown the statement of Mr. Hill today expressed the opinion that Mr. Lontz would not support Representative Gray in his fight for reelection. Others, however, like R. O. Allen, who managed his campaign in the district, declared that Mr. Lontz had withdrawn from the party.

The defeat, itself, was not so disappointing to Mr. Lontz as the fact that in this county, which Gray carried, and especially in the western part of the county, political trickery was employed, according to Mr. Allen.

The dose was the more bitter because of Mr. Lontz's efforts in behalf of Cambridge City. Last fall, Mr. Allen said, Mr. Lontz secured a new industry for that town, which others in the company, it was said, wanted to locate in another town.

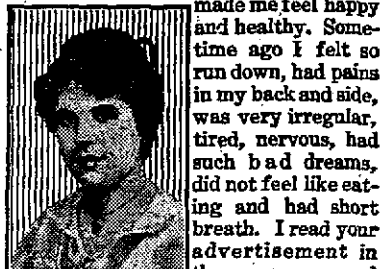

SWEET DAY.

Carey, O., March 20.—Two hundred pounds of honey stored by bees between the ceiling of the first story and floor of the second was taken from the home of Mrs. Catherine Houk here. The bees found a small opening in the brick wall and made the space their winter home for many years. The honey they had stored up filled a space the depth of the rafters and sixteen inches wide by six feet long. It was of the finest quality. Neighbors feasted.

BAD DREAMS ARE SYMPTOMS

Ill Health the Cause—Many Alarming Symptoms of Women's Ailments—How Cured.

Paterson, N. J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me feel happy and healthy. Some time ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the aforesaid ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles."—Mrs. ELISE J. VANDER SANDE, 7 Godwin Street, Paterson, N. J.
